Contractor for GC sewer break repair convicted of rigging other sewer bids

Sanitary sewer construction in East St. Louis was the subject of a "collusive, noncompetitive and rigged bids and price quotations" Aug. 6, 1971, by two East St. Louis firms, including Finis P. Ernest, Inc., a U.S. District Court jury concluded Tuesday night.

In an unrelated project, Finis P. Ernest, Inc., has been the contractor for a series of Granite City sanitary sewer break repairs since June 11, 1973. Only firms submitting bids here were Ernest, which used a unit price system, and a company which made a cost-plus proposal.

City payments in 1973 to Ernest totaled $1,018,178. With another $79,811 paid for January, the current total is $1,097,989.

The local city has received $250,000 in U.S. aid for repair of underground breaks and is trying to obtain additional federal funds. Another $275,000 has been approved but not received. The flood disaster aid is channeled through the Office of Emergency Preparedness.

The breaks began occurring last spring in the Nameoki area of Granite City. A Press-Record analysis Oct. 4 concluded that "sewer breaks are breaking the city treasury."

City Treasurer Paul Rutledge's regular reports on the problem included comments Jan. 7 that the city broke and faces a critical fund shortage during the first half of 1974.

Mayor Paul Schuler in an annual review and forecast Jan. 17 said the "condition of the sewers has the greatest single effect on our economic outlook for the short term." He has proposed a trip to Washington to discuss expanded federal help.

In Tuesday night's jury verdict, Finis P. Ernest, Inc., and Modern Asphalt Paving and Construction Co. were found guilty of criminal violation of federal anti-trust laws.

They were indicted last May 23 by a U.S. grand jury in Danville, Ill. The trial in East St. Louis began Feb. 11 and the jury deliberated for an hour and a half Tuesday evening. No date was set for sentencing.

The Ernest and Modern firms were charged with a "combination of conspiracy, rigging and fixing, at an artificially high and non-competitively low price."

Track link is charged

A link between relatives of Dan O'Neill of Alton and horse racing in Illinois was charged today by David Partney of Granite City. They are two of 11 candidates for two Democratic state representative nominations March 19.

"I agree with Mr. O'Neill's statements concerning good ethics and government," Partney said. "Since I have laid bare all my holdings and income sources, I challenge him to do the same by March 1."

"I feel he should inform the public of any financial, legal or other business ties that his family, including himself, has now or has had in the past with any organization affiliated directly or indirectly with Cahokia Downs or related organizations."

The Granite Cityman, part owner of a sheetmetal firm, alleged that O'Neill's brother admitted to the Illinois Racing Board that he secretly held race track stock for politicians and collected dividends for them.

The brother was described as an attorney at that time for the East St. Louis Jockey Club, operator of Cahokia Downs.

Partney said tracks have been investigated for ties to the late Secretary of State Paul Powell and other officials.

Partney alleged that the brother was accused verbally by a board member of withholding information on a secret Cahokia Downs land trust, owner of the track site.

The Granite City candidate asserted that in the land trust "the value of each share has been estimated to be as much as $27,000."

Partney alleged that the O'Neill brother owned five-sixths of a share and other members of the family owned another 2 1/2 shares.

He also asserted that the Emprise Corp. and its holding company, High Park Corp., owned 2 1/2 shares. He alleged that Emprise is the parent firm of a company having concession rights at the track, and said Emprise has been the subject of several investigations of business dealings.

Partney said that "now in this winter of discontent, we must bring our government back into the sunlight of confidence, the warmth of public trust."

"If I, as a candidate, feel morally obligated to the public as a matter of trust and public confidence, then Mr. O'Neill should feel obliged to act in a likewise manner," Partney said.

"There is, to me, a gnawing fear of hidden bureaucratic and political manipulation that is, if well founded, a problem for everyone."

Partney cited an O'Neill pamphlet relating that "now in this winter of discontent, we must bring our government back into the sunlight of confidence, the warmth of public trust."

Engineer issue could block traffic signals

A resolution that would have authorized Mayor Paul Schuler and City Clerk Robert Stevens to complete an agreement for retaining "certain professional engineering" services for the TOPICS safety improvement project at four Madison Avenue intersections was tabled by City Council Monday night after several aldermen strongly objected to such action without calling bids.

The resolution was presented by Alderman Ray Poulos, chairman of the Ordinance Committee, provided that the agreement would be made with the Granite City engineering firm of Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab to perform engineering work necessary for installation of improved traffic signal systems.

When several aldermen inquired as to the source of the resolution, they were told it had been requested by City Engineer Monroe Brewer. Brewer has been accepted by the State Department of Transportation to serve as

Cosgrove slain here last night

Leo Thomas Cosgrove, 48, Edwardsville, a former resident of Edwardsville Road in Madison, was fatally wounded at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Tony and Joe's Tavern, 1500 Third St., Madison.

Cosgrove is believed to have been seated on a bar stool when a man walked in, fired once at his head with a pistol of unknown caliber, and then left the tavern.

The victim was pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Coroner Edward Werner.

Two possibly material witnesses and other persons were questioned during the night by police officers. All were released.

Authorities report Cosgrove was being sought in Lincoln County, Mo., on a warrant related to the killing of a man named Dennis Cox there last year.

St. Louis and Quad-City authorities have records showing past arrests, and they

Job needs noted in officials' tour

Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene today is touring offices dealing with unemployment along with Illinois State Director of Labor Kenneth Holland.

Purpose of the tour is to focus on unemployment problems and to "discover better ways of dealing with the presently deteriorating situation."

"The state has a functioning apparatus for dealing with this serious problem," Vadalabene said. "But I want to find out if there are some better ways to handle it in the area I serve."

"It's a hard fact that unemployment is growing more serious by the day."

"I'm especially grateful that

City's funds earn $94,000

Interest earnings on city funds invested in local banks and in U.S. treasury bills under a policy followed by City Treasurer Paul Rutledge totaled $94,637 during the 1973 year, Rutledge reported to City Council members Monday night.

Rutledge said the greatest interest revenue, $35,356 in bank interest and $27,721 from U.S. Treasury bills, was in the city's general fund "where we need it the most."

The treasurer said the interest was earned on short and long term investments, depending upon the availability of city revenue and how soon it would be needed. Revenue not immediately needed is invested in time certificates and treasury bills which it draws interest, until the funds are needed to pay operating costs.

Other accounts in which interest earnings were reported, and the amounts, included: Motor Fuel Tax fund, $4,041; Nameoki Area Sewerage fund, $3,507; Nameoki Area Sewer Lines Reserve fund, $3,018.

Public Library fund, $7,737; Particular Area No. 2 Sewerage fund, $2,570; Particular Area No. 3 Sewerage fund, $25; Sewer Extension fund, $287; Special Sewer Construction fund, $2,413; Particular Area No. 3 Bond and Interest account, $902; and Sewage Treatment Plant fund, $6,756.

He stressed the need for volunteers to bring this vital information to the public and added that contributions are needed to support programs to reduce premature death and disability from heart attack and stroke.

New limit on parking

Shoppers and other motorists will be permitted to park no longer than two hours at parking meters in two-block stretches of five downtown streets under action taken by the City Council Monday night.

Authorized a right turn only for traffic entering Nameoki Road from High Street on the west side of Delmar Avenue from its intersection with 25th Street southerly for 60 feet to 2450 Delmar.

Acting on a request by the Downtown Revitalization Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, the council agreed to limit parking at meters on Cleveland Boulevard, Delmar, Edison and Grand avenues and State Street, between 18th and 20th streets.

Limited parking to one hour on the south side of Madison Avenue, beginning at 1404 Madison Ave. and extending northerly 60 feet to 1406 Madison Avenue.

The action was taken on a motion by Alderman Everett Morien that the council concur in the written request of Earl Harris, chairman of the Downtown Revitalization Committee. Harris told the aldermen that a survey among downtown merchants regarding the two-hour parking limit was approved by 99 per cent of the merchants.

Established a 5,000-pound load limit on Michigan, Indiana and Oregon avenues, all between Benton and St. Paul streets.

Alderman Walter Nonn remarked that "the only way the merchants are going to solve this (parking) problem is to help themselves. They park their own cars in these places."

Millions of dollars in cash for property tax relief will be provided again this year to eligible senior citizens and disabled persons who file a claim with the state, Robert H. Alphin, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue, reminded citizens yesterday.

Chief of Police Ronald Veizer said after the meeting that the council's action will mean that cars parked after two hours at meters in the specified locations will be ticketed.

Nearly $20 million in cash has been dispersed by the state since the Senior Citizens and Disabled Persons Property Tax Relief Act became effective Jan. 1973.

In related actions, the council Monday night approved six separate ordinances involving traffic controls on city streets.

More than 120,000 eligible citizens have received cash grants averaging $160 based on property tax paid. Taxpayers are billed for property tax based on property assessed in the previous year.

Alphin outlined the ways "seniors and homeowners should file a claim this year:

"Renters—persons who rented homes, apartments, or residents of nursing homes" should file a claim for grant now, based on rent paid during 1973.

"Homeowners, however, cannot file until they receive 1973 tax bills from their respective counties beginning in May."

He stressed, "Cook County homeowners must not file until they receive their final tax bill for 1973 from the county in July."

Homeowners who filed last year will receive forms in the mail in May to correspond with receipt of their property tax bills from the county.

Hope to separate state remodeling and politics

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record Springfield Bureau

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett is considering a major and basic policy move which could have a far-reaching effect on politics and government in Illinois.

If carried through, it could be a significant contribution to curbing corruption and, perhaps, could usher in a new era of governmental integrity and growing public confidence in state government.

What Howlett contemplates is removing completely from politics the unending program of repairing, remodeling or expanding of state buildings. Hundreds of millions of dollars are spent on this process during every administration. And the awarding of juicy contracts to political favorites has become a part of Illinois tradition.

The cost to the Illinois taxpayer over the years has been immense. What Howlett will propose is legislation to divorce all state remodeling and associated work from any elective official, principally his own secretary of state's office.

Instead, entire responsibility for this work — including the awarding of contracts and direct supervision — would be turned over to the newly created nonpartisan, seven-member state Capital Development Board, and professional state architects and engineers.

Ordinary building maintenance would remain under the secretary of state.

One direct and immediate effect of such a transfer would be to cut off or reduce political campaign contributions originating from contractors doing business with the state. Such contributions are generally believed to be one of the principal sources of $875,000 found in the late Secretary of State Paul Powell's famed shoeboxes in the St. Nicholas hotel closet.

Powell, who ran the sprawling secretary of state's office as a virtual one-man show, frequently made quick decisions on remodeling contracts without consulting any professional people.

As investigations later showed, he had his own informal method of mixed state-political record-keeping.

The Howlett thesis is that if no elected state officer has a say in contract awards, there can be no temptation for any contractor to attempt to buy state work through the old campaign contribution device.

Howlett has spent considerable time during his first year as secretary of state in trying to clear up the monumental mess that has occurred in the drawn-out, costly program to rehabilitate the Capitol Building.

He has become convinced that a drastic change in state policy governing such programs is necessary.

As part of his cleanup effort, Howlett established an advisory board to advise him on technical decisions on Capitol and other work.

However, the direct responsibility remains with the secretary of state, and Howlett feels it is necessary to sever any connection whatsoever between awarding of state contracts and any elected officials.

Legislative leaders of both parties also are to be consulted. There are bound to be many questions.

Psychic entertains Kiwanians

Gordon Hoener, an authority on extra-sensory perception, the occult and psychic phenomena amazed members of the Granite City Kiwanis Club at its Monday evening meeting in Charlie's Restaurant.

It began when Kiwanian Michael Tondus received the mail a sealed prediction on Feb. 11 to be opened by the local Kiwanian at the dinner.

It read: "I predict ... that on Feb. 18, 1974, the headlines in local newspapers will read: 'Sloven Helicopter Lands on White House Lawn'."

Some of his other predictions made Monday evening were: "Social behavior: Most religious cults will attract a wide following. Odd-ball groups will claim hundreds of thousands of disciples. There will be a growing prevalence of nudity in public places. A new and powerful movement will start up with the purpose of restoring morality, ethics and dignity into the life of every individual."

"Stock Market: 1974 will see the beginning of a stock market boom — possibly bigger than anything we've seen in several decades. The Dow Jones index will exceed the 1,200 mark."

"Space: Scientists will confirm the fact that they have made contact with extraterrestrial forms of life. A cooperative space effort, between the United States and other countries, will put a man on Mars in 1977."

"National Politics: Scandals will continue to plague the present administration — one of which will rock the world. A complete shakeup in the federal government will write a new chapter in history. Before the next election, we will see the advent of a third major political party. George Wallace will be the next elected president of the U.S. and will walk again."

"The Kiwanian's had their wives as guests to the special program which was arranged by Kiwanian Allen L. Jessee.

Open Patrick headquarters

Donald C. Rea, chairman of the Democrats for Patrick Committee, has announced the opening of permanent campaign headquarters of Edgar "Pat" Patrick, candidate for Madison County Board member from District 26.

Rea has invited the public to visit the headquarters, located at 3710 Fontson Road.

Rea said the Democrats For Patrick Committee has endorsed the following candidates:

Horace Calvo, state representative.
George Musso, county treasurer.
Von Dee Cruise, county clerk.
John Maras, sheriff.

Gene Briggs, superintendent of Educational Service Region.

The Patrick group is backing ten Nameoki Township Democratic precinct committee candidates, David Moss of Precinct One, Tom Hill of Two, Homer Boothman of Four, Dean Harrell of Five, Lloyd Gaudette of Nine, Buzz Koller of 10 and Pete Novacich of 11.

Also receiving support from the group is a candidate in Collinsville Precinct 10, Walter McGee.

FINDS REFUND CHECK

Ed Lance, 2231 Lee Ave., a custodian at the Granite City Jail, swept the city jail cells Wednesday morning and was about to throw away the trash when he noticed a check in the wastepaper. Lance found that the $98 federal income tax refund check belonged to a prisoner in the jail who had dropped it, and returned it to the man.

Proposes anti-crime bureaus

Attorney General William J. Scott said Wednesday he is seeking federal funds to create two new statewide anti-crime bureaus.

The bureaus would (1) focus on financial crimes and corruption and (2) provide direct assistance to the 102 state's attorneys of Illinois in the prosecution of difficult criminal cases.

55 mph law begins Monday

Illinois drivers will be slowed down beginning Monday to a 55 miles-per-hour maximum speed limit.

Madison County Sheriff John Maras reminded motorists that the speed law will be in effect on state and county roads regardless of whether the road is posted.

The truck speed limit remains 55 mph on four-lane highways and 50 on two-lane roads.

Whitsell—Record of progress

By LOUIS WHITSELL
County Board candidate for re-election
Democrat, District 26

The fact that I am considered the most active and progressive County Board member is a great honor to me and to my constituency.

One of my opponents has even labeled me as "king of the County Board", however, I wouldn't know, because neither of my opponents have ever attended a session of the County Board.

They are not qualified to judge my actions, pro or con. They have read the same news reports of my accomplishments that you have, so I'll let you be the judge.

All County Board members and their opponents have other income. Anyone who reports that this office is his only source of income is not truthful.

Last week, Harry Briggs, former township supervisor, and Edgar Patrick came to my office to "dig for dirt." Evidently the only thing they could think of was my income.

But I knew it would be dirty and half true when they came out with it. In 1972, they had me arrested on false charges that were dropped right after the election.

Now they label me as the highest paid County Board member. This is not true. I was among the highest paid, but not the highest, nor much different than the lowest.

Our pay also includes reimbursement for mileage or expenses that don't reflect as a financial gain when my bills are paid.

My County Board per diem in 1972 was $5,415 with $627.48 taxes withheld, for a total take-home of $4,787.52, including reimbursement for mileage.

In 1973, my per diem was $7,240 with $1,616 taxes withheld, for a total take-home of $5,624, including reimbursement for mileage.

No one has ever given me anything for nothing, nor is it a secret that I work nights as a tool and die maker, when I can, to support my family.

If ever gets to the point that elected officials are expected to work for nothing, only the dishonest or rich will be able to serve.

Mr. Patrick already made his fortune operating the old Lake Club Tavern and game house. He now is in the mobile home park and sales business and holds down a state job as post shop inspector.

When the state legislature abolished his pay as tax collector, he refused to serve. Let's face the facts.

If he is elected as your County Board member, he'll be paid the same as I am, if he does the job properly.

I have a lot of other opponents. I can't say much, because he has never done anything. He was put up to run against me in a primary election, since he lives in my precinct.

My job as a tool and die maker has not been fulltime since 1972. My day begins at the office at 8 a.m., and ends at 3 a.m.

I have a total annual income that fluctuates, which is about the same as I could earn if I was not an elected official.

My per-hour earnings are very low, considering the amount of time involved in the county. But I love public service and would like to make it part of my life as long as I'm able.

Recently we organized a citizen's group to protect against unfair tax assessments. A lawsuit has been filed in behalf of the people against the city.

We were well aware that Nameki Township was being reassessed since 1971, but nothing could be done until after the fact.

When the new assessments came out, we took immediate action.

Why would my opponents want to criticize that? They couldn't have done it any better or sooner.

The fact is very clear that they just want my job, not that my approach was incorrect.

Let's talk about my record as County Board member and the very important committees I serve on.

The County Board is a legislative body operated on the committee system, with similar duties as a senator or a representative, only on a county level.

The position requires a person who is available to cast a vote for the citizens he represents.

The county chairman assigns members to committees to get the jobs done and to bring back the legislation from the committees to be voted on by the board.

The chairman calls the committee meetings and the members are paid only while in session.

I have been assigned to some of the most important and active committees in Madison County.

1. The Executive Committee. Composed of eight elected members to correlate the activities of all other committees.

2. The Four-Township Sewer Committee. To bring sanitary sewers to the townships of Nameki, Chouteau, Venice and Granite City. All plans and applications for federal and state funds have been drafted.

3. The Land Use Committee. To coordinate orderly growth development in Madison County.

I would like to call attention to the statements of some of the candidates for the board, including my opponent, Louis Whitsell—"Due to the deficit in the budget, some jobs and services will have to be cut."

I suppose he never gave a thought to coordinating the committees, making sure all committee members were needed at the time, to eliminate overlapping authority and unnecessary per diem expenses.

This would have saved tax dollars for the needed services development for more jobs and tax dollars.

We have a need for a comprehensive health program in the county.

We must have a complete reassessment of property for equalization of taxes throughout Madison County.

The county committees should be coordinated between themselves and the County Board to do away with overlapping authority and unnecessary per diem expenses.

We need recreational development for more jobs and tax dollars.

During this weekend, volunteers will visit residents to distribute heart-saving information and collect Heart Dollars.

Ray Smith and Michael Tharp presented a sound movie of activities at the YMCA.

Nothing could be done until after the fact.

3. The Land Use Committee. To coordinate orderly growth development in Madison County.

I would like to call attention to the statements of some of the candidates for the board, including my opponent, Louis Whitsell—"Due to the deficit in the budget, some jobs and services will have to be cut."

I suppose he never gave a thought to coordinating the committees, making sure all committee members were needed at the time, to eliminate overlapping authority and unnecessary per diem expenses.

This would have saved tax dollars for the needed services development for more jobs and tax dollars.

We have a need for a comprehensive health program in the county.

We must have a complete reassessment of property for equalization of taxes throughout Madison County.

The county committees should be coordinated between themselves and the County Board to do away with overlapping authority and unnecessary per diem expenses.

We need recreational development for more jobs and tax dollars.

During this weekend, volunteers will visit residents to distribute heart-saving information and collect Heart Dollars.

Patrick—Foe uses false issue

By EDGAR PATRICK
County Board Candidate
Democrat, District 26

The person serving as your representative on the County Board has the responsibility of protecting your tax interest when the situation arises.

There is no possible excuse for your representative to become a "tax champion" immediately prior to an election.

If this representative has been doing the job he was elected to do, there would be no need for citizens' group to institute a tax suit, financed with their own money.

The current representative on the County Board, Louis Whitsell, has done just that. He has advocated that private citizens band together to file a "tax suit."

If he had been doing the job he was elected to do—looking after your interest—there would be no need for a suit. He would have already been looking after your interest, a function he is being well paid to perform.

When issues such as this arise immediately prior to an election, they become false campaign issues—issues that will become dead after election day.

It is, and has been for two years, Mr. Whitsell's responsibility to prevent unfair assessments and higher taxes from becoming a reality.

I am opposed to high taxes and unfair assessments just as much as anyone, I, too, am paying this high rate.

I am also opposed to my County Board representative doing nothing and then at election time make every effort to place the blame in any other direction except where it belongs.

Mr. Whitsell has certainly attended enough meetings on the County Board to know what is going on—268 meetings in his first 17 months.

He has certainly never paid enough. For attending these 268 meetings, he has enriched himself as follows:

PER DIEM FROM COUNTY, $10.00.

TRAVEL EXPENSES — COUNTY, $12.00.

At the same time, he has further received from the township, as follows:

SALARY FROM TOWNSHIP, $9.49.

TRAVEL EXPENSES — TOWNSHIP, $1.59.

To represent our interest in a 17-month period, Louis Whitsell has collected a grand total of $23,124.

Why, I ask you, after all this, should he ask the public to use its own money to do a job that he has already been paid very well to do—all this in addition to holding a private, full time job. This is not the first time Mr. Whitsell has talked "tax suit" at election time. He used this same format when seeking office for township supervisor. After his election, nothing further was heard from him about a suit.

Mr. Whitsell has now proposed that the township spend $13,000 per year to collect taxes—a function already being performed by the county.

How, if Mr. Whitsell is so concerned about high taxes, can he justify spending this $13,000 unnecessarily, and yet ask the already overburdened taxpayer to contribute his own money to file a suit?

He has charged inefficiency in tax collections at the county level. He is serving as a County Board member on the county level, charged with the responsibility of preventing inefficiencies, not contributing to them further by spending another $13,000.

If ever there has been a case of "not letting the right hand know what the left hand is doing," this is it.

This is but one of Mr. Whitsell's false campaign issues. There are others, now being researched.

I am opposed to false issues. I intend to use every resource to prevent abuses of public trust.

It should be the aim of every elected official to give a day's work for a day's pay, or to paraphrase it, the very best representation for $23,124 and 268 meetings on the county level, and salaries from the township level.

Nature trail development

Plans are being formulated for the proposed Madison County nature trail from Granite City to Edwardsville to be improved as part of a training program by Operating Engineers Local 520, Mitchell.

Louis Whitsell, Nameki Township supervisor and a member of the county education and recreation committee, announced the tentative plan after meeting Tuesday with Theodore Dressel, business representative of Local 520, and Edward F. Reiske, executive vice-president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting, held in the Local 520 office, was arranged by Reiske and William Nichols, an interested citizen.

Whitsell said he is to send to Dressel this week a letter of intent to enter into a contract with Local 520 for the work. Approval then must be given by the Madison County Board before the contract can be signed.

Local 520 also must see that the program will meet the requirements of its grant programs which reimburse about half the cost of the action's training programs.

If contracts can be signed,

Local 520, which represents operators of heavy motorized equipment, will use its equipment to improve the nature trail and provide a bicycle path along the route.

Gibbons—Taxes being wasted

By BILL GIBBONS
County Board candidate
Democrat, District 26

When elected as a County Board member, I will make myself available to the public so they will know of the operations and goals of the board.

Efficiency and economics would be put on the agenda. Drainage and sewer treatment must be on the agenda, and cooperation of federal-state-county-local governmental bodies can and must solve those problems.

We must encourage industrial development for more jobs and tax dollars.

We have a need for a comprehensive health program in the county.

We must have a complete reassessment of property for equalization of taxes throughout Madison County.

The county committees should be coordinated between themselves and the County Board to do away with overlapping authority and unnecessary per diem expenses.

nothing could be done until after the fact.

When the new assessments came out, we took immediate action.

Why would my opponents want to criticize that? They couldn't have done it any better or sooner.

The fact is very clear that they just want my job, not that my approach was incorrect.

Let's talk about my record as County Board member and the very important committees I serve on.

The County Board is a legislative body operated on the committee system, with similar duties as a senator or a representative, only on a county level.

The position requires a person who is available to cast a vote for the citizens he represents.

The county chairman assigns members to committees to get the jobs done and to bring back the legislation from the committees to be voted on by the board.

The chairman calls the committee meetings and the members are paid only while in session.

I have been assigned to some of the most important and active committees in Madison County.

1. The Executive Committee. Composed of eight elected members to correlate the activities of all other committees.

2. The Four-Township Sewer Committee. To bring sanitary sewers to the townships of Nameki, Chouteau, Venice and Granite City. All plans and applications for federal and state funds have been drafted.

3. The Land Use Committee. To coordinate orderly growth development in Madison County.

Urges residents to apply for flood insurance

Walter "Dick" Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau Township and a candidate for the Democratic nomination as County Board member in the March 19 primary election, today urged Chouteau Township residents to apply as soon as possible for flood insurance.

Sparks noted that Elsie made it clear during the meeting that no federal damage claims will be paid to a resident who suffers flood damage to property not covered by insurance.

Illinois Bell may serve this area

Tom Rich, Granite City manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., advised the Press-Record yesterday that Illinois Bell and Southwestern are resuming talks about transferring the Quad-Cities, East St. Louis, Belleville, Lebanon, O'Fallon, Freeburg, Edgemont and New Athens to Illinois Bell.

At present, Southwestern serves Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, plus the Illinois communities involved in the talks. R. Ray Shockley is vice-president of Missouri-Illinois operations and William King is Illinois district manager.

Both firms are subsidiaries of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. AT&T said Wednesday in New York it hopes to convert all publicly held shares of Illinois Bell Telephone Co. into its own common stock; it owns 99.33 per cent of IBT at present.

Transfer of this area was the topic of exploratory talks in 1969. IBT held similar talks then on transferring to Indiana Bell its areas served near Chicago. Both proposals were deferred.

Shockley commented, "By purchasing our Illinois exchange, IBT could become the sole Bell firm serving Illinois."

In addition to, some organizational advantages, such a realignment would simplify regulatory matters for both companies and state commissions.

No timetable has been set. Shockley noted, "At this point, we have agreed with Illinois Bell to take up the discussion where we left off. Of course, any agreement reached must be approved by regulatory agencies."

Dismiss charges. The Madison County State's Attorney's Office this week dismissed charges against Steven Piechocinski, 2405 Sunbury Ave., stemming from a shooting which his brother, Victor Piechocinski Jr., was wounded. Victor since has recovered from his wounds. Both brothers contended the shooting was accidental.

Public will honor Dr., Mrs. Epstein

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Epstein, who are retiring from an office practice, will be honored at a reception from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at the Hill Burns Cafeteria, 19th Street near Delmar Avenue.

Members of the public who wish to congratulate the Epsteins on their long participation in local community activities may attend the reception, the sponsors said.

Don Blairs name son Jason Todd

Mr. and Mrs. Don Blair, 2824 Hemlock Ave., became the parents of their first child, a son, born Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The new arrival weighed eight pounds. He has been named Jason Todd.

Mrs. Blair is the former Miss Gail Johnson. The father is a member of the Press-Record advertising staff.

The infant's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl T. Johnson of Granite City and Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Blair of San Francisco, Calif.

Fireman hurt in $9,500 fire

Granite City firemen were on the scene three hours at a house fire which caused an estimated $9,500 damage at 4125 Brand Ave., Tuesday.

The blaze which began at 7:55 p.m. started above a wall furnace of a home owned by James Graham and occupied by Ruth Sprinks.

Fireman James Strack, 29, was struck by debris while fighting the fire and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment to remove debris from his right eye, after which he returned to duty.

Trailor hits car, woman is hurt

Miss Linda Chapman, 22, of 2822 Pershing Blvd., was injured in a freak accident Tuesday when a trailer, pulled by a pickup truck, broke loose, crossed the center line, and struck Miss Chapman's auto.

Dennis Dardara of Collinsville was driving the car pulling the trailer.

Miss Chapman was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was treated for scratches to her neck caused when a car window shattered and glass struck her. She was released following treatment.

Pie to Parente as police win

Granite City police defeated the firemen 32-20 in their annual benefit basketball game last night at South High. By agreement, the winning chief, Ronald Tracy, was allowed to smash a pie into the face of the losing chief, Don Parente, afterward.

Later, at a restaurant, the team trophy vanished from a table surrounded by police. The theft is thought to have been a practical joke.

The game raised about $1,000 for the police athletic fund.

Robert Buente's name

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buente, 2342 Emert Ave., became the parents of their second child, a son, born Wednesday at Memorial Hospital in Belleville.

The infant weighed five pounds, 12 ounces and has been named Robert Scott. His sister, Sherrie, is 3 years old.

Harnett told a steelworkers' meeting that "common sense" would have dictated that Gibson be retained in the state administration.

Granite Cityans bolster SIUE nine; 44 contests

Coach Roy E. Lee has welcomed 13 pitchers and five catchers to daily workouts at the old Lincoln Grade School in Edwardsville as the SIUE baseball team prepares for the 1974 season. Twelve other players reported this week.

The Cougar baseballers will have about a month of drills before heading south to Florida. It will be Lee's sixth straight trip to the land of sunshine to ready his athletes for a spring campaign.

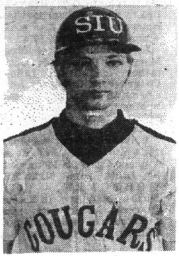

It must be a good formula Lee has come up with, for the major leagues use it and SIUE has since 1969. And, every season since becoming eligible for post-season NCAA tournament competition, Lee's nine has qualified — '70, '71, '72 and '73. He led the Cougars to a third-place finish in the national tournament in 1972.

The trips south add an extra fillip and urgency to the opening drills for the 35 to 40 hopefuls who eventually will take part in practice sessions. Coach Lee will choose about 25 players to make the trip.

His charges face a tough 44-game schedule, including six games with three new opponents. Probably the toughest will be Vanderbilt University, which will host the Cougars March 27 at Nashville, Tenn., as SIUE heads back north to open the regular schedule March 29 in the first annual Cougar Classic Tournament.

Two of the 13 hurlers who turned out for initial practices are veterans Nick Baltz, 6-6, and Larry Johnson, 5-11. They give Lee a solid start on the building of the four-man staff he says he needs. Johnson, hard-throwing southpaw from Edwardsville, posted a 5.0 record and an earned run average (ERA) of 1.91.

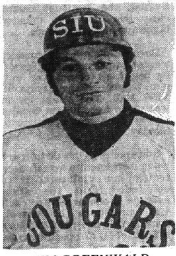

Right-hander Baltz of Valmeyer finished with a 4-4 record and a 2.51 ERA despite a slow start. Steve Earnhart, on the varsity level, and Greg Wolk and Bill Talbot, who saw junior varsity duty, are chief candidates for the third and fourth starter berths. Earnhart is from

JACK SCARBOROUGH

JOHN STANTON

JIM GREENWALD

Highland and Wolk from Crystal City, and Talbot is a native of Manchester, Mo.

The other mound hopefuls are: Sam Pastrowski, Mount Olive and Litchfield; John Stanton, Granite City; Dennis Jablonski, East St. Louis; Mike Palzarano, Chicago; Rick Moss, Highland; and a transfer from Millikin University, Willie Lee, East St. Louis; and Marc Simons, Quincy.

The three top catching prospects are Pat Scholz, Dennis Werth and Ken Schaeke. Werth, a product of Mount Pulaski high school and a transfer from Lincoln (Ill.) Junior College, is a skilled catcher but equally at home at third base and at first.

The 6-2, 190-pound Werth is a power hitter and led the prestigious Central Illinois Intercollegiate League in hitting this past summer as a member of the Springfield entry. His 370 hitting set a new league record and he chipped in 10 four-baggers.

Schaeke, Edwardsville, and Scholz, Decatur, give the Cougars solid strength behind the plate, but they won't have the experience and savvy that graduates Roger Belshie of Granite City and Tim Summers brought to the position the last two seasons. Two other catching prospects, Skip Kilman of Marissa and Bob Gallagher, St. Louis, could end up on the varsity, too.

Gallagher, a soccer standout from Christian Brothers High, could be the biggest surprise for Coach Lee. Gallagher was the catcher on the Ballwin, Mo., American Legion team which won the national championship in 1972.

With the catching out of the way, Lee's team, in the classic demands of baseball people, will be solid down the middle: Pat Peterson, Edwardsville, at shortstop; Tom Twellman, St. Louis U. High, at second base; and Jim Greenwald, Granite City, in centerfield. The Peterson-Twellman double-play combo is the school's best, and both hit well over the average for their positions.

As practices start, Bill Lee, clever fielding and hard-hitting son of the Cougars' coach, appears to have an edge at first base. Terry Vartanian, East St. Louis, may get the nod at third base, but Jim Dohr, St. Louis, can't be ruled out of competition, both at the hot corner and at catcher.

In the race for the three outfield berths, Greenwald would have to be ranked No. 1 at this stage, but Jerseyville's Stuart Trask, Marissa's Bob Matzenbacher, Belleville's Jon Rehg, Granite City's Jack Scarborough, and Cahokia's Pat Leonard all have good chances of winning starter's berths. All will see a great deal of action during the 44-game schedule.

Watson 3rd in skating

Keith Watson, 14, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Watson, 2553 Benton St., lost his bid to capture the Southwest Open Indoor Speed Skating Championship when tripping on the ice in the finals during the weekend. He had qualified first in the 440 and 880 yard heat races at the St. Louis Arena.

Young Watson was leading other skaters in the one-half mile final event and tripped on an object in the ice. He managed to get back on his feet and skated to a third place finish. In overall competition Sunday, Watson earned enough points to tie a Jefferson City, Mo., boy for third place in the meet.

The Coolidge Junior High School student entered the prestigious event fresh from capturing the St. Louis City racing championship last Thursday.

Ritchie state champ

Former Granite Cityan Harold Ritchie Jr., a 17-year-old student at Hazelwood (Mo.) High School, defeated three other 138-pound wrestlers to capture the Missouri State Championship in his class during the Class AA state tournament Saturday at Forest Park Community College in St. Louis.

He placed third in his class at last year's state meet as a sophomore and this season defeated GCHS South's Don Heath in a dual meet contest between Hazelwood and South.

Venice seeks repeat Dupo cage title; Madison has other ideas

A three-way battle for the toughest Class A regional in the state, since his team might have to face both Madison and Venice in the tournament. Defending champion Venice, which boasts a third place state finish last year, has met both schools this season, having been defeated 48-46 in December by Madison and having downed Lebanon 64-52 to capture the Columbia-Freeburg tournament.

In last year's regional, the Red Devils downed Madison 70-64, Lebanon 64-58 and then eliminated Brooklyn, 54-46, to win the Dupo Regional.

With first year coach Richard Essington at the helm, Venice again has proved itself a strong contender for the Class A state title. The Red Devils have players who all are capable of scoring in double figures on any given day against opponents, and boasts one of the finest offensive-defensive squads in the area.

The Madison Trojans, 17-7, are looking forward to avenging their loss to Lebanon and are hoping for a repeat win over Venice if the two should meet. Madison is fresh from an 86-65 win over the Brooklyn Wildcats. Brooklyn is ranked fifth in the regional. The Trojans also boast a strong offensive-defensive team.

One other fact would determine if Madison or Venice reaches the championship game, that is if either should lose its first scheduled contest. The result would be automatic elimination from the tournament.

Saunas, new floor for SIUE 'bubble'

Two sauna baths and a new floor surface will be installed in the bubble building used as a temporary intramural athletic center and recreational facility at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The additions were approved last week by the SIUE Board of Trustees. Trustees authorized expenditure of up to $48,000 for the floor resurfacing and $5,000 for the two saunas. The money will come from the Student Welfare and Recreation Facilities fund.

In July 1972, a $5,117 contract was awarded to provide an asphalt surface for the bubble building's inflated shell interior. This was recommended because bids on a preferred combination rubber and polyurethane surface ranged from $30,829 to $40,000 and adequate funds for the preferred floor exceeded the limit of the budget approved by the project by the Student Senate.

Trustees were told the asphalt surface had created substantial noise problem and that there have been frequent injuries.

The Student Senate, which must approve all allocations from the welfare and recreation fund, has endorsed the resurfacing proposal. Students who have used the recreation facility requested the addition of one sauna for men and another for women. This proposal also was endorsed by the Student Senate.

Ice hockey season closing

The McClair High School Ice Hockey League will end its regular season competition this weekend at the Wilson Park Ice Rink before pairing the six participating schools for the season tournament to be held here Friday, March 1.

Alton, now 14-4, clinched the league championship two weeks ago. East St. Louis Assumption, 11-3, assured itself of a second place finish, and Wood River, 7-7, has taken the third spot. This weekend will determine the remaining three positions. Granite City now is fourth at 4-10. Belleville and Collinsville, each with a 3-11 record, are tied at fifth. Granite City will have to win its final game to finish the season fourth. Pairings for this weekend's contests are: Collinsville vs.

Assumption, 10-20 p.m. tomorrow; Wood River vs. Belleville, 11:45 p.m. Friday, and at 8:10 a.m. Saturday, Granite City vs. Alton.

Girls now take to the hardwood

First it was just tennis, bowling and field hockey. Now, varsity basketball has been added to the girls' athletic program at both Granite City high schools, South and North.

The first year program, played under Illinois High School Association rules, is in an experimental stage with only four games for each school on the schedule.

"There is no conference or league," said Barbara Kerch, consultant to Granite City girls' high and junior high and all elementary school P.E. programs. "Right now it is strictly intramural competition."

"At the end of two years, we will re-evaluate the program and possibly go to a full schedule of games," she added.

GCMS South will begin its cage-season Tuesday, March 12, in a 4 p.m. contest here with Edwardsville. South's remaining three contests are March 15 at Roxana, March 18 at Wood River, and March 22 at home against Alton.

The North girls' cagers opened their season Tuesday at Grigsby Junior High School against Alton.

The visiting Alton team led North at the end of every period 16-12, 15-33, 44-21 and the final score, 64-28. Joy Pierson was high pointmaker for the local squad with eight points.

The remainder of North's season schedule is: Tuesday, Feb. 26, at 4 p.m., here with Edwardsville; March 5, here against Wood River, and March 13, at Roxana.

"If this season proves successful," remarked Miss Kerch, "we might add two more games to the schedule next year."

Fun Day Saturday at YMCA

Area students in grades one thru six, are invited to participate from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday in the YMCA Fun Day activities at the local "Y", 2001 Edison Ave.

The four-hour long event will feature swimming, gymnastics, various games, arts and crafts.

South freshmen edge Collinsville cagers

Paul Evans scored 25 points, 16 in the third quarter, to lead the GCMS South freshmen cagers to victory Monday here against Collinsville.

South tied the game 18-18 at halftime after being down 15-12 at the end of the first period. The local squad then outscored Collinsville, earning 31 points to 11 in the third period and winning, 75-64.

Collinsville outscored South 20-14 in the final period. South's sophomore squad trailed Collinsville with quarter scores of 22-9, 35-20, 56-28 and 60-44 in losing its contest with the visitors. Steve Lawrence led the sophomore Warriors in scoring with 10 points.

Local cars win show

Two Quad-City area residents received first place trophies during the weekend when their cars were judged winners at the National Auto Show held at Kiel Auditorium, St. Louis.

The auto of George Gruenfelder, 1818 Fourth St., Madison, captured first place honors in the modified track competition division, and the auto of Norman Hall Jr., 2906 Victory Drive, took first place in the late model hardtop division.

MARRIED. Army Private and Mrs. Keith L. Lupardus, who were married at Tri-City Park Tabernacle. The bride is the former Barbara Black, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Black, 2521 North St. (Ollis Photo)

Miss Barbara Black and Keith Lupardus are wed

Tri-City Park Tabernacle was the scene of the wedding Feb. 16 of Miss Barbara Lynne Black and Private Keith Lee Lupardus, U. S. Army.

The Rev. Claude Black, a cousin of the bride, officiated at the 7 o'clock evening ceremony. A double ring service was used and the couple repeated their vows before a trellis archway decorated with greenery and white satin bows.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Black, 2521 North St. The groom is a son of Mrs. Pearl Lupardus, 714 State St., Madison, and Homer Lupardus of Woodlawn, Tenn.

Miss Betty Black, the bride's sister, served as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Melanie King, Vicki Lupardus, the groom's sister, and Lynn Woods, his cousin.

Charles Roach was the best man, serving with Don and Ron Lupardus, brothers of the bridegroom. Darryl McKnelly, groomsmen. The corps of ushers was headed by Charles Wilson, the groom's cousin, and Mike Bird.

The flower girl, Della Jo Becerra, was escorted by a nephew of the groom, Thomas Ian Lupardus, ring bearer. The bride wore a long gown of white tulle and Chantilly lace made with a high neckline. Ribbon lace created the bodice and the long lace sleeves terminated in ruffles at the wrists. A petal headpiece of lace secured a full length veil of bridal illusion, edged in a wide band of Venice lace. She carried a cascade tulle bouquet of white carnations and baby breath, centered with a detachable corsage of pale green carnations.

The attendants were gowned alike in full length frocks of pale green velvet jackets. They wore complementary headpieces and each held a colonial nosegay of tinted green carnations.

Wearing a floor length white dress made with ruffles around the neckline, hem and short puff sleeves, the tiny flower girl carried a basket of rose petals. Friends and relatives greeted the newlyweds at a reception in the church fellowship hall immediately after the ceremony.

Following a honeymoon trip in Kentucky, the couple will live at Fort Campbell, Ky.

The former Miss Black was graduated last month from Granite City High School South. Her husband attended Granite City High School and Roxana High School prior to enlisting in the U. S. Army last October.

Divers benefit dance Saturday

Patrons of a benefit dance Saturday evening at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison, will aid in completing payment on a new air compressor for use of the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (B.U.R.T.), a group which operates without charge as a community service.

Tickets, costing $6 per person, include free food, beer and soft drinks and may be obtained at the door at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, or by calling Vance Weiss, at 877-3912, president of the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club, sponsors of the dance.

Close to 500 attended the third annual ball last year, according to Weiss, who said all proceeds from the public event once again will be applied toward the group's newly acquired MAKO compressor unit. The equipment cost in excess of $6,000.

Music for dancing will be provided by Mona, A. St. Louis band, Weiss said. Members of the St. Louis Scuba Club are planning to join local divers at the event, Weiss said.

The Bubblemasters officer noted that the underwater recovery squad works closely with civil defense authorities, state, county and local police departments and the state's attorney's office for whom evidence has been recovered from the Chain of Rocks Canal, Mississippi River and nearby lakes and drainage canals.

In addition to assisting law enforcement officers in the local four-community area, the team has worked in conjunction with the Collinsville and Edwardsville police departments in recovery operations.

Team divers furnish their own equipment, frequently costing between $500 and $700, and air fills for the diving tanks are provided without charge to the rescue squad by the Bubblemasters Club, Weiss explained.

All services offered by the recovery team are free, the club officer noted. He pointed out that anyone in need of its specialized assistance may contact local police or CD officials to get immediate aid. The new air compressor equipment was constructed in Florida specifically for the Bubblemasters' style of operation.

The mobile unit includes its own cascade refill storage system, in addition to a direct compressor operation. It can be transported without difficulty to areas where air would be otherwise unobtainable, Weiss explained.

All area residents are invited to attend Saturday's dance from 8:30 p.m. until 1 a.m., the club president said.

Weiss added that any person interested in scuba diving, whether a qualified diver or not, also is being urged to attend the Bubblemasters' regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, March 10, at the Granite City Civil Defense Center, 1411 Nineteenth St.

At the club session, John Hall, president of the Midwest Diving Council, will present a series of colored slides taken by the St. Louis group while diving in the waters off British Honduras and the Cayman Islands, Weiss announced.

Many gifts were presented the bride-elect and displayed on a table centered with bride and groom figurines.

Games were played and prizes were awarded to Pauline Harp, Carrie Hart, Velma Christian and Julie Eitelman.

Also present were Carolyn Mihu, Ruby Foster, Ellen Douglas, Betty Sirlin, Elmer Snagert, Christine Allen, Jacky Nemeth, Sandra Head, Louise Baker, Virginia Head, Betty Boker, Sandy Head, Raphine Springer, Sharon Nelson, Wilma Hudson, Katie Pennock, Virginia Larsen, Evelyn Davis, Carolyn Bellman, Shirley Stark, Carolyn Stark, Betty Bellman, Misty Stark, Fern Alfoller, Colleen Wright, Elsie Long, Myrtle Howell, Allen Phillips, Marie Ehler, Velma Rice, May Clary, Denise Wright, Mary Kendall, Patty and Laura Eitelman and Mrs. Hagan.

TRI-CITIES INDEPENDENT INSURANCE AGENTS URGE YOU TO READ THE FOLLOWING ABOUT FLOOD INSURANCE

The possibility in the next several months of severe flooding exists again. The National Weather Service has issued a flood warning for the Missouri River. The Service also reported that melting snow and heavy rains were causing fast rises in the Mississippi River and its tributaries. The Army Corps of Engineers, while emphasizing that the 1974 river levels will depend on how heavy spring rains are, has already warned that present conditions are almost identical to those last year at this time before the flood. . . . district engineers have been alerted to prepare for possible flooding that might match the destructive floods of last year.

Ball Saturday to aid Cancer Society

The fourth annual "Mardi Gras Charity Ball" to aid the American Cancer Society, Madison County Unit, will take place at 9 p.m. Saturday at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant Ballroom in East Alton.

Many Quad-Cityans are expected to be among the 500 guests attending the event, one of the more sparkling functions of the midwinter social season.

Hollywood personality Robert Carson, an actor in movies, television and radio since 1937, will headline the list of celebrity guests.

The big band sound of Johnny Polzin will echo through the ballroom for dancing, along with the music of the Bill Bernes Band. A late buffet supper will be served the guests.

This year's top celebrity has been active in helping the society's efforts since his wife died of cancer in 1936. His brother, Jack Carson, an accomplished actor and comedian, also died of cancer.

Bob Carson helped to organize a "Celebrity Council" for the American Cancer Society in 1967 by recruiting movie and theatre people in large numbers to volunteer their talent and time to aid the organization.

Prior to the ball, a patrons' cocktail party will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bengel of Alton Reservation information may be obtained by calling 1-465-2120.

Mrs. Dorothy Edwards, New Hope, and Mrs. Arline Fox, Granite Chapter 650, both grand lecturers, were introduced and grand chapter members from Unity Chapter and Granite Chapter were presented.

MR. GROCER: FOOD IS TOO EXPENSIVE. YOU'VE RAISED YOUR PRICES AND ARE MAKING TOO MUCH PROFIT!!!

WE ALL KNOW FOOD PRICES HAVE BEEN RISING... HERE'S WHY!

Everyone and everything, including the weather - shares some responsibility.

MOST OF YOUR FOOD DOLLAR GOES FOR LABOR. For processing and moving from farm to supermarket, labor gets about 50 per cent. This major share, working 14 hour rotating schedules in 1973 had increased 40 per cent in 12 years.

CONSUMER DEMAND HAS OUTSTRIPPED SUPPLY. We have been increasing and upgrading our food purchases. Most accounts for 25 to 30 per cent of our gross sales. With only 4 per cent of the world's population, in 10 per cent of our gross sales, 100 million people are eating in the United States. We consume one-third of the world's meat. Demand for beef had increased in 1973. 20 years. Each year of beef production requires eight acres of land. Soybeans, a principal cash crop, are up 125 per cent in price. Eighty per cent of a livestock producer's costs are in feed.

FOODS ARE BEING SOURCED HARDER. Food goes for our support of 75 cents, transportation and moved other products. The grocer's share of the cost is 10 cents, and with it, the demand for food. Foreigners are outbidding us for food. Exports of fruits, nuts and vegetables went down 20 per cent in 1973.

NATURAL DISASTERS CONTRIBUTED TO SHORTAGES. Cattle and hog prices were pulled by an unusually wet winter followed by early snow. Vegetable and fruit crops also suffered. The spring affected wheat, corn, soybeans and beans. Cattle and hogs raised at this time to top economic quantities of grain from us, driving prices up.

FOOD PRICES ARE A SMALLER SHARE OF YOUR INCOME THAN 10 YEARS AGO! In 1963, one spent 25 per cent of your disposable income on food. By 1973, one spent 30 per cent. Food prices had dropped to 16 per cent - a decrease of 38 per cent in 10 years.

WHY PICK ON FOOD PROCESSORS AND RETAILERS? ARE BEING SOURCED HARDER. Food prices rose 26.4 per cent in 1973. Wholesale prices for packaged goods from farm prices rose 26.4 per cent in 1973. Wholesale prices for packaged goods from farm prices rose 26.4 per cent in 1973. Wholesale prices for packaged goods from farm prices rose 26.4 per cent in 1973.

County acts to build new jail

Under pressure by the state, the Madison County Board Wednesday began official planning for a new county jail. The present jail is more than a century old.

A letter from the Illinois Department of Corrections informed board members the existing county jail at Edwardsville could be condemned by the state.

The board voted to authorize the county building committee to meet with architects and to study available sites for a new jail.

The committee is to report its progress to the board March 20 and is to have a contract from an architect for the board to consider.

Board members approved purchase of 19-100 of an acre of land from Robert and Annette McFarland as part of the right-of-way for extension of Maryville Road from the Granite City limits to Route 162.

An ordinance approved establishes a certificate of occupancy which must be obtained by renters or home purchasers before they may move into a residence in unincorporated areas of the county.

Certificates are to be issued by the building and zoning administrator only after the property is certified as meeting all building and zoning requirements.

The residence or apartment is to be assessed immediately after the certificate is issued, and taxes will be paid on the basis of the new assessment from the time the unit is occupied.

The board approved Dr. Carl Rogers as county administrator of a new state animal control act. Dr. Rogers now is the county's rabies control officer.

'1.6 million levy adopted by levee district board

A 1974 tax levy of $1,652,900, of which $1,462,900 is in the general fund, was approved by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees in a special meeting Tuesday.

The new levy will clear the account.

Other levy items include $15,000 for liability insurance, $150,000 for the municipal retirement fund and $25,000 for auditing.

The board also appointed Jack Scoville, board president, as the levee district representative to the Metro-East Regional Association (MERTA) to replace Trustee Charles Meyers. Russell Robinson of Granite City, a board trustee, was named as alternate MERTA representative.

Contractor

competitive level the price of sanitary sewers construction."

The indictment charged that competition "had been" suppressed and restrained, that East St. Louis had been denied "competitive sealed bids in free and open competition."

The sanitary sewer project was part of a $2 million urban renewal program in East St. Louis.

Maximum penalty for such a violation is $50,000.

Also, both companies could be suspended for up to three years from bidding on projects involving federal, housing and urban development funds.

Ernest bid $260,180 and Modern $262,204. Ernest was awarded the East St. Louis work.

U.S. Attorney Henry A. Schwarz alleged in the trial that "bid-rigging is obvious."

Defense lawyers said there was no evidence and that no one had testified or inferred that the two firms had conferred with each other. There was agreement that the bids were similar, and the defense said conclusions about this were speculation.

Judge James L. Foreman explained the circumstantial evidence in his instructions to the jury at East St. Louis.

The unrelated Granite City contract—not involved in any litigation—was approved by the City Council eight months ago by a 13-1 vote after concerns were voiced by councilmen about the competing cost-plus bid.

Richard Sage, vice-president of the Ernest firm, told the local aldermen that he did not believe a de-watering process would be necessary to reach breaks in sewer lines. However, the Ernest bid listed de-watering cost at $2,500 per day, and pumping of sewage in order to bypass breaks at $1,000 a day.

Of the $1,097,989 paid here so far, about 75 per cent involved de-watering and bypass pumping.

Engineer

work for the city."

Alderman Clyde Boyd asked if an estimate of the cost could be made, but Brewer replied such a projection is virtually impossible because it cannot be pre-determined as to how much work will be necessary.

Parmley commented that "You (Brewer) should come in with some kind of cost factors. We didn't want a city engineer who would sub-let his jobs. It's not right for you to come in here and name an engineer for us to hire. That is something this council does."

At this point, Mayor Schuler told the council that "this is partly my fault. I suggested that Brewer make this recommendation after we attended a preconstruction conference with state highway officials."

The mayor said that the state required a resident engineer to be on the construction job at all times, and that additional work such as staking and running lines would have to be done.

Brewer said that the city does not have the equipment necessary to do some of the required engineering work. He also explained that the Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab engineering firm worked with Harland Bartholomew & Associates of St. Louis in preparing the original project plans and therefore would not have to "repeat a lot of the engineering work."

Poulos made a motion to force a vote on the resolution, but the vote was forestalled by a motion to table.

Property tax

Under the Senior Citizens and Disabled Persons Property Tax Relief Act (known also as the "Circuit Breaker"), annual cash grants are available to eligible citizens who pay rent or property tax on homes.

Only persons over 65 or those physically or mentally disabled who lived in Illinois during 1972 or 1973 with an income of less than $10,000 during either year are eligible to apply for a cash grant from the state.

Claimants must be Illinois residents at the time their claim is filed.

In December 1973, Gov. Dan Walker signed a bill into law extending the filing deadline for 1973 property tax relief.

Although there is no specific deadline, citizens who did not file for that year are urged to do so immediately to obtain cash grants early.

Information and forms may be obtained at any Illinois Department of Revenue office in the state or by writing to the Illinois Department of Revenue, Box 5124, Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Information may also be obtained by calling toll free 800-252-8972.

The improvement calls for added safety installations at the intersections of 20th, 22nd, and 24th streets and Niedringhaus Avenue on Madison Avenue under a $136,377 contract with the MacIair Asphalt Co. of Calverville.

Schuler warned against any delays that might block the project in noting that the TOFCS program (Traffic Operations Program) to improve the capacity and safety of city streets is not expected to be renewed. Under the program, 75 per cent of the work is financed by the federal DOT.

The Granite City High School South stage band is hard at work preparing for its first concert of the year tonight at 8 o'clock in the South auditorium. The public is invited to attend. Admission is with a GCHS South concert band season ticket or a single admission of 75 cents for adults or 35 cents for students.

Proceeds from last year's concert were used to buy mutes for brass instruments. The revenue from this concert will be used to purchase more equipment for the stage band.

The stage band is an extra-curricular activity, with practices held once a week after school.

The band features a brass section (consisting of trumpets and trombones), saxophones, percussion, bass and piano.

The stage band studies and will perform a wide variety of music, ranging from the nostalgia of the 1940s to modern jazz rock.

Venice board sets canvass

The Venice Board of Education Monday night set Monday, March 4, as the date for the board to canvass votes cast in the March 1 school district referendum.

The March 1 school election will decide a proposition to raise the Venice district's educational fund tax rate by 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation to help meet a deficit in school funds.

The board approved trips for two teachers—Mrs. Perissa Danavice, a special education teacher, to attend the Good Teaching Practice Conference March 7 and 8 at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, and George Weimers, driver education instructor, to attend a national driver education program now under way in Milwaukee, Wis.

Richard McIntosh, a former district student, was granted tuition to attend Belleville Area College, Belleville.

Use of the Venice High School gymnasium was granted to the VHS Chorus for a March 28 sock-hop.

Permission also was granted for the VHS Home Economics Department consumer education and family living classes to dine today at Noah's Ark in Missouri.

Requisitions for supplies were approved totaling $466 for the Venice schools and $427 for the Venice Lincoln Technical Center.

Bills ordered paid by the board included $4,948 from the educational fund, $2,381 for school lunches, $8,058 from the building fund, $927 for junior college tuition and $3,828 for transportation.

IRS ruling aids city

A favorable ruling obtained by Attorney Horace Calvo from the Internal Revenue Service will permit Granite City to earn full interest under current rates on $1,015,000 received from the sale of sewage treatment plant bonds, the City Council was informed Monday night.

Calvo, who served as special city bond attorney in the recent sale of $4.1 million in revenue bonds, told the aldermen that the ruling will prevent a sizeable loss that could have been more than $100,000 under an earlier determination that the city's interest earnings would be limited because of IRS regulations.

The city early this year completed sale of the $4.1 million bond issue to finance its share of construction of the new secondary sewage treatment plant on the Granite City Army Installation grounds. The total bond issue included $1,015,000 for retirement of outstanding bonds that were issued to build the city's present primary treatment plant.

Since ten years of the amortization period still remain for repayment of the primary treatment plant bonds, the $1,015,000 will be invested to meet bond payments as they fall due.

Under IRS regulations, if first was believed the city would be limited in the amount of interest it could earn, with those earnings not to exceed one-quarter of 1 per cent above the amount of interest paid on the bonds. Since the city was retiring its old bonds, sold at 4 per cent, with money from the new bond issue, sold at 6 per cent, a sizeable loss was possible.

Calvo said he appealed the matter to IRS officials who sent him a "determination ruling" that will permit the reinvested bond funds to draw current interest rates without a limitation.

Council members commended Calvo for his action in the matter and welcomed the ruling as "good news."

In other action Monday night the council enacted an ordinance under which longevity pay and holiday pay for Granite City firemen will be pro-rated as "base pay" in the future. In explaining the intent of the ordinance, Fire Chief Don Parente told the aldermen the change was necessary to meet pension payments which are figured on base pay.

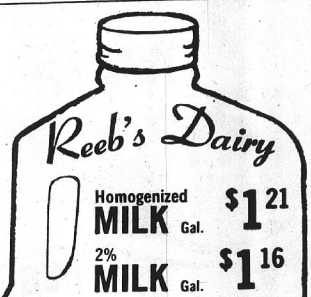

Previously, Parente said, the pension fund administered under state law was computed on base pay, and therefore did not include longevity and holiday pay.

An ordinance establishing a monthly salary of $1,071 for the newly created rank of lieutenant-colonel on the police department, and $1,040 monthly for police captains also was approved. The salaries are unchanged from the salary of assistant chief of police for the

First GC National Bank now the largest in county

At the organizational meeting Tuesday of the board of directors of First Granite City National Bank immediately following the annual shareholders' meeting, three new officers were appointed.

They are Merle Rose and Elmer Wortham, assistant cashiers, and Laveeda Knobbe, assistant trust officer.

Mrs. Rose is married to Lamont Rose and they reside at 2447 Waterman Ave. She has been a member of the bank staff since 1949.

Mrs. Knobbe joined the bank in 1960 and is married to Edward Knobbe. They are the parents of one daughter, Jayne, and reside at 2 Frontenac Lane.

Wortham became a member of the bank staff in 1968. With his wife, Jan, he resides at 2538 Boyle Ave.

In other actions, the board re-elected Paul H. Lichtenberger, chairman, Harold R. Fischer, vice chairman and S. E. Pershall, chairman of the Executive Committee.

Reappointed were Melvin C. Wilmsmeyer, president; Charles L. Gavin, senior vice president; Harold G. Bauman, vice president and trust officer; I. J. Pitman, vice president and cashier; Earl G. Dotzauer, vice president and auditor; Howard E. Etherton, Walter K. Gavlick and David V. Fox, vice presidents; Alex. Schenckhoff and Herbert S. Camren, assistant vice presidents; Edward R. Pierce, Edward L. Therkell and Ernest P. Elleff, assistant cashiers; and T. J. Conrad, manager-data processing.

Retired directors Otto H. Romann and John J. Stolze were named as members of the Advisory Committee to the board.

The regular quarterly dividend of forty cents per share was declared, payable on March 15 to stock of record at the close of business on March 8.

At the shareholders' meeting, 91,581 of the 120,000 outstanding shares were represented.

Directors re-elected were Harold R. Fischer, Howard W. Kaseberg, Paul H. Lichtenberger, Howard M. Love, S. E. Pershall, S. E. Pershall Jr., Carl A. Ranft, John W. Reese, John C. Rendleman, Nicholas P. Veeder and Melvin C. Wilmsmeyer.

Chairman Lichtenberger, commenting on results for 1973, told the assembled shareholders that deposits and earnings for the past year again reached new highs, and that published reports showed the First Bank to be the largest bank in Madison County.

"All of the members of the First Bank family, employees, officers and directors are extremely proud of our having reached this goal and are very happy with the acceptance by the people of the Quad-Cities community of the full banking services offered by this bank," Lichtenberger said.

The chairman called attention to the new message center and time and temperature signs recently erected on Edison Avenue and Twentieth Street, and said many compliments have been received on this new service.

"We also expect to have our new drive-through facility in operation within the next 30 days, the newest and most modern in the metropolitan area and in Downstate Illinois.

"This will provide us with two additional customer service lanes and also a walk-in area with two teller windows for the convenience of our State Street customers," Chairman Lichtenberger continued.

"During the year, we completed the transfer of a vacant lot in the 1800 Block of Edison Avenue to the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America.

"While we are not aware of any definite plans for the future use of this lot, we are confident that the property, or the proceeds from a sale, can be helpful in furthering the work performed by this important segment of the youth building organizations in our community.

"If I were asked to pick out the one activity of the past year of which we are most proud," Lichtenberger continued, "it would have to be our increased participation in the Student Loan Program.

In the seven years of our participation, we have made 735 loans totaling $796,173. Unpaid balances at year-end were $591,554.

"In the majority of cases, without this help these young people would not have been able to continue their education and prepare themselves for the future.

"We are happy to report that, with only a few exceptions, our experience with this type of loan has been extremely good.

"Many problems confront this nation in 1974 and the outlook for business is not the best. We do not believe, however, that we will see a serious recession.

"We have faith in America and in its people and are confident that our many problems can be solved and that we can emerge from this period a better and stronger nation.

"We pledge to you, our shareholders, and to our many customers and friends, our continued efforts to furnish the best in banking services to our community and to aid in every possible way the growth and development of our community and nation," he concluded.

New head of state board

Gov. Dan Walker announced Wednesday he has designated Mrs. Dorothy Grant Arndt, Rock Island lawyer, as chairman of the Board of Vocational Education and Rehabilitation. Once an employee of the board, she is the first former employee to be named either member or chairman of the rehabilitation board.

Mrs. Arndt, appointed to the board June 28, will replace Dr. Jerome G. Miller, Dr. Miller, director of the Department of Children and Family Services, resigned as chairman because of his heavy work schedule; he will remain a member of the board, as provided by statute.

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN
The 1973 auto of Arthur Grimm, 1334 Niedringhaus Ave., was stolen from 20th and Iowa streets, Grimm reported at 7:45 a.m. Tuesday.

School employees hired

Two custodians and a cafeteria worker were employed by the Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night.

Custodians employed were Ross Conners, 2917 Harding Ave., and Oren Harrison, Rural Route Two, Mitchell.

Hired for a cafeteria post was Mrs. Jean Stopkotte, 2444 Dewey Ave.

The board accepted two resignations, three retirements and granted one leave of absence.

Resignations were accepted with regrets from Michael Loftus, a teacher-aid at the pre-school center who will continue his education, and from Yvonne Albrecht, a Johnson School teacher, who is leaving the area. Both resignations will be effective in March.

Retiring are Tennie Horman, a fourth-grade teacher at Washington School, and Raymona Krynitzko, a third-grade teacher at Washington, both effective at the end of the school year, and Elmer Gruen, a custodian at Mitchell School, effective March 31.

A leave of absence was granted to Margaret Amick, a nurse in special education, effective April 22.

The board appointed Gerald McKeehan, a driver education teacher at Granite City High School-South, as assistant baseball coach at South. He was selected from four applicants to fill the assistant coaching position vacated by Conrad Champion when Champion was named head baseball coach for South.

POW PROMISE
On Feb. 28, 1973, the White House announced it had assurances that all prisoners would be released from Vietnam in 60 days.

Single price rise allowed Gasoline and home heating oil retailers may raise prices only once in February and then only to reflect a rise in the price they pay for their products, Leon C. Green, district director of Internal Revenue for Central and Southern Illinois, said yesterday.

Green added that petroleum retailers also must pass on to their customers any price decreases.

In January, petroleum retailers were permitted a one-time, one-cent per gallon increase in addition to the monthly cost pass-through. This one-cent price rise may be retained in subsequent months. However, Green emphasized, retailers are not permitted such additional price increases at this time.

Diesel fuel prices are frozen until March 1, unless the Federal Energy Office terminates the freeze sooner. Persons with questions or School photo costs up

The cost of purchasing student pictures in the Granite City schools will increase next year, the board of education agreed Monday night.

The board retained Hollywood-Andrews Studio as official photographer for the student pictures and accepted the company's proposals for price increases.

The cost of pictures for elementary and junior high school student photo packages will increase next year from $2.25 to $2.75. The schools' shares will increase from 15 cents to 25 cents per package sold.

Board members voted to allow the increases to the schools rather than reducing the cost to the parents by 10 cents because of the difficulties of collecting money and giving change for $2.65 packages.

Senior high school students will continue to receive photo packages for $2 with 50 cents of that cost going to the schools' yearbooks.

The cost for photographs of seniors will not change, except framed 8 by 10 inch photos will increase $1 because of the rising cost of the frames to the photographer.

Hollywood-Andrews will continue to provide yearbook activity photos and staff identification photos without charge and photos for student identification cards will not increase in price, board members were told.

The board accepted Hollywood-Andrews proposal for the 1974-75 and 1975-76 school years.

Eleven spirit process duplicators were ordered purchased immediately from A. B. Dick Products, Inc., at $104.50 each, a total of $2,029.50.

when a price rise could be anticipated. Because of the impending price hike, the board agreed to make the purchase rather than to seek bids on the duplicators.

Rubelmann, $82; Rubelmann-Lucas, $160; Breadhead Garrett, $2,125; Sligo, Inc., $146; Merrick Machinery, $138; Baptist Electronics, $325, and Toledey Post, $180.

Tarlas Meat Co. was retained as supplier for French-fried potatoes even though the company notified the board it would be unable to continue its bid price of $8.20 per case until June 1 when the present contract expires.

Two other vendors were contacted and indicated their prices already had risen. Tarlas indicated the price will rise before March 20 to $6.25 per case.

Joesten's American Yearbook Co. was returned to the list of acceptable bidders for the 1974-75 school year. The company had been removed from the list in 1972.

The board approved payment of $150 to the Illinois Association of School Administrators as administrative service fee for the year.

Two gifts were accepted by the district. The Lake School Parent-Teacher Association donated $387 for miscellaneous supplies for use at that school and the Parents for Special Education group donated $50 for use by the faculty at Lake School.

Born in East St. Louis, he lived for a time in Chicago, then moved to Madison where he lived the past 14 years. He was a bricklayer for the past 14 years at Granite City Steel Co.

Says energy crisis is real
"The energy crisis is real," but real or not the question is academic, because if it is not here today it will be here tomorrow, and now is the time we must be conservative on our use of forms of energy," Carl E. Mathias, service area manager of the Illinois Power Co., told the Wednesday noon luncheon of the Madison Rotary club.
Mathias noted that community involvement and local cooperation are needed in the energy situation. He said new ways to extract impurities such as sulphur from coal are needed so a greater use of coal could be made without hurting the environment.
President Wade James reminded club members that they have been invited to join the Granite City School District's March 12 banquet in celebration of the Granite City Club's 50th anniversary.
Next week a board of directors meeting will be held.

City firemen were called to the 1900 block of State Street at 10:22 p.m. yesterday to extinguish a blaze which caused an estimated $100 damage to an awning. The fire is believed to have been caused by a cigarette tossed by a passerby. Firemen were on the scene less than 20 minutes.

Discuss college contact for data
The Area College Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, chaired by George T. Wilkins Sr., met Wednesday with Thomas Keen, assistant to the president of Belleville Area College, and Bruce Wissors, representative, to discuss cooperation between the Quad-Cities and BAC.
In addition, the meeting was attended by representatives of the Venice, Madison and Granite City School Districts who took an active part in the discussion.
One of the problems discussed was for each area representative to that college applicants and parents may make contact with the area representative to plan classes offered and what will be done about holding classes locally, especially vocational training.
A plan was discussed to ask BAC to put in a toll-free telephone line so that area representatives could call direct to Wissors and obtain this information. This area is one of those being added to BAC July 1.
Local facilities for holding classes were discussed, and each district representative pointed out that classrooms are available for evening classes starting at 4 p.m. daily. There is a possibility of room in the Venice School District for holding day classes.
A subcommittee will be appointed, including at least one representative of each school district, to solicit students for BAC and determine what classes and training local residents want and where the classes may be held.
Meanwhile, Wissors will make direct contact with Quad-Cities and discuss the topic further and work out a plan of action within the next 30 days.

Venice coach praises Sumner
"Our Venice players, fans and school officials have high respect for Sumner High School," Richard Essington, Venice High School basketball coach, said this week in praising the St. Louis school and its team.
Venice met Sumner at the local gymnasium Friday and the two basketball squads will meet again Saturday at the St. Louis court.
Essington said a Venice player was injured by an elbow during a scoring attempt early in the game last weekend, but was able to return to action later in the contest.
The coach voiced praise for the conduct of both Missouri and Illinois players, students and spectators at Friday's game.
He described it as one of the best games of this season, and said injuries are unavoidable in some cases when players are competing within appropriate rules for possession of the ball.

School board filing to open Feb. 27

Filing of nomination petitions for the 1974 school elections in the Quad-City area will open Wednesday, Feb. 27, with petitions accepted in the board offices of the Venice, Madison and Granite City school districts.
Three school board terms are to expire this year in each of the Granite City and Venice districts, while two board posts are to be subject to election in Madison.
Candidates may file petitions Feb. 27 through March 26. Candidates who wish to do so then will have until March 26 to withdraw.
The election will be held this year on April 13. Absentee voters will have through April 8 to apply for absentee ballots by mail, and through April 10 to apply for absentee ballots in person.
Terms expiring in Granite City School District this year are those of George Moore, Donald Stucke and Harold Davis. Davis is a rural member, but election of a rural member will not be a factor in this year's election since there are two incumbent board members, Norman Hall and Carl Macios, who were elected from rural areas.
Moore, secretary of the Granite City board, will be present at the board office, 20th and Adams streets, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. the first filing day to accept petitions.
In Venice District 3, the terms expiring are those of James Lee Davison and John Davison. Davison is now board president.
The terms of Frank Dornier and Elvers Johnson are to expire on the Madison board. Johnson was appointed to replace a vacancy created by the resignation of Theodores Kemp.

Flu undermines South mat hopes
The 1974 sectional wrestling tournament gets underway at 7 p.m. tomorrow with first round mat action with 96 wrestlers representing schools from four district meets participating.
Both Granite City High School South and North are expected to participate by a total of 13 matmen, 10 from South and three from North.
North Coach Walt Whitaker told the Press-Record, "Our three boys will have their hands full. No doubt it will be a very tough meet for them."
"Randy Hartline," he said, "will meet the cream of the crop in his weight class, Belleville East's Jim Rizer and South's Woody Halbrook. Rudy Pyle could meet Bryan Mitchell of Belleville West and Phil Lapinski of South. Bill Carr will face two very tough wrestlers, East's Bob Baldwin and South's Dave Rushing."
South's head mentor William Schmitt shares North's feelings. "We are going to meet," he commented, "some of the finest to be found anywhere."
"I'm not worried about any one school, it's the individual wrestlers we are concerned with. Our main objective is to place our boys in the state meet, and the only way to do that is beat individual, not schools."
Unlike sister school North, the South Warriors are faced with another problem, the flu bug.
"We could win it," said Schmitt, "but we are having the flu affecting our wrestlers, especially some of our key matmen."
"Just to name a few," Schmitt continued, "Don Hasty has been out of school all week, Dan Heath is ill, and also below par is John Niebur who is undetected this season."
"It will be tough," he concluded.

North sophomore cagers win 2
The Steeler sophomore cagers of GCHS North posted back-to-back victories this week while their freshman counterparts lost their two contests.
The sophomores downed Wood River 62-37 on the road Monday. Now then, Tom Curis, head coach, led the team to a narrow 32-51 victory there.
Against Wood River, North's freshmen dropped a close 64-63 decision in overtime to the host school and were defeated 80-42 at Collinsville.
Scoring in both games for the sophomore squad, with Wood River game points listed first, were: Jim Woodward 17, three; Brian Smith 15 at Wood River; Jerry Barnett 15 at Wood River; Chris Gaddie seven, six; Darrell Page six at Wood River; Tom Schocker 28 at Collinsville; and Larry Scheicher eight at Collinsville.

Bryant, family reunited in area
Alabama Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant, a principal speaker at the 1974 Coach of the Year Clinic at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn during the weekend, was reunited with local relatives. On Feb. 18 he had sent a telegram to his Granite City relatives, Mrs. David H. Kendall, her daughters, Mrs. Vasil Eftimoff, and the latter's son, Jimmy Eftimoff, arranging a brief family get-together before he spoke at the coaches' meeting.
Mrs. Kendall and Coach Bryant are first cousins and were raised on adjoining farms in Southern Arkansas.
As both families were large — nine in the Galloway clan and 12 in the Bryant group — there were many family anecdotes to exchange.
Only one member of the older generation, Minnie Bryant, is still living. She is a resident of a Warren, Ark., nursing home. She is Jimmy Eftimoff's 88-year-old great-great-aunt.
Coach Bryant presently resides in Tuscaloosa. He is the father of two and has five grandchildren. He has an outstanding record as head football coach at "Bama" with consistently winning teams.

Kendall, her daughters, Mrs. Vasil Eftimoff, and the latter's son, Jimmy Eftimoff, arranging a brief family get-together before he spoke at the coaches' meeting.
Mrs. Kendall and Coach Bryant are first cousins and were raised on adjoining farms in Southern Arkansas.
As both families were large — nine in the Galloway clan and 12 in the Bryant group — there were many family anecdotes to exchange.
Only one member of the older generation, Minnie Bryant, is still living. She is a resident of a Warren, Ark., nursing home. She is Jimmy Eftimoff's 88-year-old great-great-aunt.
Coach Bryant presently resides in Tuscaloosa. He is the father of two and has five grandchildren. He has an outstanding record as head football coach at "Bama" with consistently winning teams.

He will attend the convention with pastor David E. Pieling. The convention will be held Friday through Sunday, at Augustine's Convention Center in Belleville. Zion Lutheran Church of Belleville is the host congregation.

Beauticians hear candidate speak

"Fundamentals of Lobbying and Procedure" were reviewed by David Partney, a Democratic candidate for state representative, at a meeting, Monday evening of the Elite Hairdressers Affiliate 33 at Tempel's Smorgasbord.

Mrs. Betty Smith, president, presided and announced that Judge William Johnson will speak to the same issues at the affiliate's March 18 meeting. Brenda Cant, a Granite City beautician, presented the program on salon styling and current trends, demonstrating comb-outs, new curling iron techniques and the Uni-Perm method. Her models were Virginia Thomas and Donna Speckles.

Mrs. Smith described meeting earlier Monday with state legislators in Springfield. She was accompanied by Mrs. Evelyn Hood, vice-president. Twenty-five attended the meeting.

Circle Four meets with Mrs. Matson

Mrs. Helen Matson, 1717 Pontoon Road, was hostess to Circle 4 of the First United Presbyterian Church at her home Tuesday evening. Fourteen attended and were served a dessert course.

Mrs. Arlene Fox, chairman, reported plans for the United Presbyterian Women's association meeting at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday at the First Church when Mrs. Helen Krummick will review the book, "Jonathan Livingston Seagull." A salad luncheon will be served. "World Day of Prayer," a program sponsored by Church Women United, will take place March 1 at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, it was announced. Also reviewed were preliminary plans for the UPW anniversary dinner on April 23. Mrs. Barbara Landis read the "Yearbook of Prayer" and Mrs. Matson led the "Least Coin" service.

Sisters speak at 'Hospital Night'

Sister Joseph Maria and Sister Pauline of St. Elizabeth Hospital were guest speakers at a meeting of Women of the Moose Chapter 247 at the Moose Lodge hall, 19th and Adams streets.

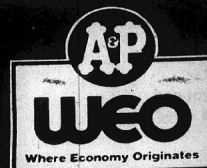

The guests reviewed the duties of a social worker at the hospital, describing various patient services provided at the local facility. The program conformed to a "Hospital Chapter Night" theme.

Mrs. Margaret Houseman, senior regent, was in charge of the business session, with Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, junior regent, presiding during the program. Mrs. Mildred Walker was chairman for the evening.

Mrs. Georgina Teller, junior graduate regent, presented achievement awards to the chapter for 1972-73, and plans were made to attend a "Rally Day" event at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, March 3 at the Collinsville Moose Home.

Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Sara Gusselle, Mrs. Teller, Mrs. Dorothy Coy and Mrs. Ada Crowder served refreshments to 38 members. Winners in the social hour were Mrs. Rose Summers, Mrs. Edna Bardley and Mrs. Dorothy Pulley.

Many instances of healthy economic trends for Quad-City area industries

It may be human nature to remember reverses more vividly than gains, and Quad-Cities are acutely aware of closings of the former Union Starch and General Steel plants.

Less dramatically, there have been solid employment gains at Granite City Steel and American Steel Foundries. A. O. Smith Corporation's auto frame plant here also was flourishing until the sudden impact of the gasoline crisis, which has reduced sales of frame-equipped cars.

There have been many positive occurrences.

The Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation in its latest annual report noted this 1973 Quad-City progress: Midwest Steel Corp. moved its East St. Louis plant and St. Louis office to Granite City. Shasta Beverage Co. began a 1,725-square-foot addition. Granite City Steel began erecting a new mechanical maintenance building and a 6,000-square-foot health center.

Apex Oil Co. built two liquid storage tanks, increasing the Tri-

City Regional Port District capacity to 16 million gallons. Charles Todd Uniform Rental Co. completed a $500,000 plant with 14,500 square feet of floor space for industrial uniform laundry, repair and rental services. And Archer-Daniels-Midland Co. began a multi-million-dollar processing plant to produce soybean oil and meal.

National Steel Corporation's Granite City Steel Division, meanwhile, raised its annual payroll from $70 million to $82½ million during 1973, increasing blast furnace output from 1,401,000 tons in 1972 to 1,474,000 and boosting basic oxygen furnace steel production from 1,693,000 to 1,666,000, or 8 percent. Shipments of flat-rolled steel products increased by 537,000 tons, or 36 percent.

An even clearer illustration of the markedly favorable impact of Granite City Steel production from employment by monthly comparisons. Employees totaling 3,997 received $4,739,000 in December 1971, while 4,682 were paid $6,304,000 12 months later and 5,015 employees received $7,251,000 in December 1973.

Melvin Price advancing to 'dean' of the Illinois delegation in Congress

Nineteen seventy-four will be a year of an extraordinary exodus from the halls of Congress.

Already, six senators and 33 representatives have announced retirement plans, and such announcements are continuing. More may retire in the wake of Tuesday's election of a Democrat in the former district of Vice-President Ford, an area in GOP control since 1954.

An exception to the rule is the congressman from this district, Melvin Price, whose many duties include chairmanships of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee, the House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct and also the Research and Development Committee of the House Armed Services Committee, a committee on which he is the ranking member.

With the retirement this year of house Minority Whip Leslie Arends, Cong. Price appears destined to become the new dean of the 24-member Illinois congressional delegation.

Although the title of dean is largely honorary and carries no perquisites of office, it seems a fitting recognition of his leadership on the big and little issues affecting this district as well as the state-nation and world.

Kidnappings increasing after virtual elimination of U.S. death penalty

Principal debate over the long-absent death penalty involves whether it deters crimes and whether it is "cruel and inhuman"—which is banned by the U.S. Constitution—to seek and carry out capital punishment of an individual in view of the defendant's probably long period of behind-bars worry and waiting.

While opinions differ as to the merits, such discussions generally are related to murder cases. The abduction of Patricia Hearst now is reminding the public that the death penalty also was applied in past years to the crime of kidnapping, a particularly vicious law violation in which the victim is subjected to extreme anguish over his fate. Taking of hostages by terrorists and extortionists also has become more frequent in recent years.

Kidnapping was a rarity for several decades throughout the world, perhaps partly because it was known that the penalty was severe. Now, some terrorists are completely free and many others, while punished, are immune from a death sentence.

The question that remains is whether capital punishment has emboldened many, with or without "causes," to feel relatively free to seize innocent persons against their will.

Unopposed Venice mayor candidate has much experience in city government

Withdrawal of the only other candidate leaves William M. Ebersold virtually assured of election as the next mayor of Venice in special balloting in April.

The absence of a vigorous contest perhaps could be faulted on theoretical grounds, but it accurately reflects Venice residents' awareness that the veteran city clerk is thoroughly familiar with municipal needs and procedures. "Mike" Ebersold worked closely with the late Mayor Lee in all phases of the city government.

As was Dr. Lee, he is a widely respected public official. The mayor candidate seems uniquely equipped to carry on in the past tradition while at the same time bringing new approaches to challenges arising in the future.

Too much 'plain speaking'

PLAIN SPEAKING: by Merle Miller; G. P. Putnam's Sons; 448 pages; $8.95.

The longer his presidency recedes into history the better Harry Truman looks. Merle Miller, one of the nation's top writers, obviously hopes the 33rd president will look even better on the basis of "Plain Speaking," an oral biography of Harry S. Truman.

Miller may see his aim realized; on the other hand, the man from Independence may lose a bit among his many admirers as result of his exercising plain speaking. Perhaps some of the speaking is too plain. There also may be something behind the motive of Miller in coming out with the pungent Truman phrases.

He had spent parts of two years (1961-62) taping his conversations with Truman, who was 77 at the time. The purpose had been to do a television series. However, the major networks turned down the proposition and Miller was left with a lot of tape (with no eighteen - and a - half - minute Watergate gaps) and a prospect for a new market. His book is the new market.

At 77, Truman may have been even more testy than his presidential years. Miller's language hints that he was — or he may have been more vindictive, or forgetful, or just getting old. He at least was more boastful of his own proclivity for telling big people off and he was more proud of his skill as a general use of words like s.o.b. and other bits of barnyard language. His pet hates come out badly in the book. His success in the Truman years was good words for it, first of all, Gen. of the Army George C. Marshall. He spends much of his time cheering — or egging — Truman on in his most bitter denunciations of those who displeased him.

He obviously was a great admirer of Truman as a man of courage and of "plain talk." Miller had done a bit of editing in transcribing his tapes. However, one is concerned that this humble Missouri farmer and haberdasher who became a great president might have come out better than the book. Harry Truman might not like to read of that hate were he alive today and many of his greatest admirers might feel a bit embarrassed concerning his excesses in "Plain Speaking."

Many helped create park in Mitchell

To the Editor: This letter is in answer to a political notice placed in your newspaper by "Citizens for Doer" on Feb. 14. Citizens should be informed that the Mitchell Athletic Club park was not made possible through the efforts of Mr. Doer.

This park is the dream built with labor, equipment and heartaches of men like Leland Jones, Bill Baugh, Joe Stephanoff, Dick Chambers, Galand Waldo, Mel Simpson, Jim Moore, Al Crumby, Bob Young, Bill Simmers, Paul Seesholtz, Jerry Turner, Roy Moorland, Myron Merz, Jerry Farris, Joe Fallon, Bob Polley, Wendell Crip, and many others whose names slip my mind.

All contributed many hours of labor, materials and heavy equipment for this worthy cause.

Suspicious of pre-election actions

To the Editor: As a regular subscriber to the Press-Record and a reader of each issue, I would have to guess that Louis Whitsell must be running for office again.

The signs are the same as in all the past Whitsell elections or those in which he backed other candidates.

Two months before each election, he comes out with outstanding headlines with ideas he has about making Namekoi Township improvements, most forgotten after the election.

For the last six weeks this man has been using the office of Namekoi Township supervisor as a platform to conduct his present County Board campaign. Last month, he had news items to fight taxes, possible services to be installed, added police protection, to pay a tax collector for collecting taxes, a new drainage committee and how he fought for that fired township highway employee.

Then we find out he fired his own secretary over a year ago because of her political thinking. All this township activity starting two months before his County Board election. How much more can we expect before election day?

I would like to suggest to all other readers that when you read these headlines, stop and give honest judgment of what they are for.

Are they real and sincere, or just a tool of this man's campaign? Stop and think: can't you remember these promises in his past elections?

How many times does he expect the voters to swallow the same line, how dumb does he think we are?

I have not yet made up my mind on all the Democratic candidates that I will vote for, but I can guarantee that Mr. Whitsell will not be one of them.

I thank the Press-Record for the courtesy of giving me and others the opportunity to speak out.

Busing, guns seen as election issues

To the Editor: I'm for Dakin Williams, Columbia lawyer and resident of Madison County, for United States senator.

He has all the qualities for a good Senator (doctor of laws degree, former professor of constitutional law at St. Louis University, and former first assistant United States attorney at East St. Louis).

Why am I for Dakin and against Adlai Stevenson? First of all, Dakin is against busing, and Stevenson is one of the nation's foremost advocates of busing to achieve equality.

Williams has a plan to his teachers which would solve the whole problem. All anyone wants is better schools. Dakin would give the teachers incentive pay to teach in poorer districts.

He has a Volkswagen full of teachers, it is a lot less expensive than ten buses of students. And think of all the gasoline he saves.

Now, take gun control. Stevenson wants guns to be confiscated. Here you have cattle rustling going on, and Adlai wants to take shotguns away from farmers.

Stevenson has a bill now in the Senate floor to federally register all guns. What is the purpose of this bill? We all know criminals don't register their guns.

The only purpose of this bill is to notify the authorities where the guns are, so they can be picked up when Sen. Hart's and Sen. Kennedy's bills pass that take all guns away from the people.

These losing guns would include farmers who need them for protection, as well as business men, and hunters who may have to learn to hunt with bow and arrow if Adlai is re-elected.

Also, Dakin Williams is against abortion — murder of the unborn child. For all these reasons, I'm for him.

Could industrial heat ease fuel crisis?

To the Editor: Somewhat like the eternal flame, the flame that has burned constantly at the Granite City Steel coke plant—ever since the St. Louis Gas and Coke Co. began operation many decades ago—makes one wonder just how little we know about our energy crisis.

If heat is energy, why haven't our sophisticated technologists discovered a method to utilize the vast amount of heat wasted in such a flagrant way.

Would you believe that this extravagance could possibly furnish enough energy to supply all the needs of the Quad-City area if it could be utilized properly?

PUPILS WITNESSED CRUELTY TO DOGS

To the Editor: Who were the two men who picked up two dogs at 26th and State Streets, Friday, Feb. 17?

Picking the dogs up was "excellent teaching" for all the children at Niedringhaus School who were watching. It made a very big impression on them.

People who try to teach children kindness to all living things are soon defeated with just one incident like this.

Rotary Club being organized

FEBRUARY 21, 1924
Preparations are being made to organize a Granite City Rotary Club. A number of citizens met at King's

State holds fewer juvenile offenders

ST. CHARLES — As statistics on juvenile crime swing upwards, state institutions are receiving fewer offenders. Sam Sublett, administrator of juvenile institutions for Illinois, said that the state is closing facilities because there are many county and community-based agencies taking over. The courts are using Illinois corrections facilities as a last resort, and recent civil rights legislation are also contributing to diminish the need for state facilities.

Less than 2 percent of known delinquents are in state facilities, according to Sublett. The average stay is seven months. Some boys or girls remain more than a year, while others may be held only a few weeks.

Over the years, many changes going on in juvenile corrections, Sublett stated, and there will be many more changes.

Illinois State Training School for Boys at St. Charles is taking the Reception and Diagnostic Center from Joliet.

The program is coming home. It began at the boys school in 1953 and under the Illinois Youth Commission was transferred to Joliet in 1958 when the commission bought the Will County Old People's Home.

Over the years the center in Joliet has had about 250 boys being processed at one time and a staff of more than 200. There was extensive psychological and medical diagnosis, based on the assumption that anyone outside the law had mental problems.

At St. Charles the population will increase by about 45 to 60 boys for R and D, the reception and diagnosis center.

A few years ago there were 750 boys in the facility, today there are less than 300.

One reason the figures are dropping for state schools, is a recent Supreme Court ruling, insisting that adjudication take place within 10 days of a boy being taken into custody.

Sublett stated that as of Feb. 1, the state no longer takes any detention cases. These are to be handled by the community or county. Also, there will no longer be parole revocations as automatic as they used to be. If an offender is picked up for another crime, it becomes a whole new game and he must be re-arrested and re-arrested.

Illinois juvenile corrections is not just institutionalization. It has a probation program, and family and community counseling service.

Sublett feels that next legislative session standards for probation officers, case loads and regulations on probation. Once a boy is adjudicated to custody, he will be sent to St. Charles where he will be tested for intelligence, aptitudes, physical abilities and social history. There is also a dental and physical check.

However, long psychiatric diagnoses and intensive case studies of boys will no longer be used unless specifically warranted.

For example, if a boy is diagnosed as needing one of the four programs offered at Illinois State Training School for Boys, he may be put into one of those four categories. Although he could still over into all four categories, he is placed into the one which warrants immediate attention.

These are copied from the Morgan Town, Pa., pilot corrections program, which describes a boy as inadequate and immature; neurotic and disturbed; unsocialized or from social subculture.

The boys could also be sent to one of five camps or seven other institutions, depending on their needs, ages and development. The number of facilities has decreased from 19 to 11.

One pilot program being used in corrections is a regional approach. A boy is placed as close to home as possible to enable him to receive counseling. This is being done in seven counties around East St. Louis.

Sublett stated courts and communities are recognizing the needs of children. Rather than putting juvenile offenders out of sight and out of mind they are doing things in communities for the youths.

He does not, however, see an end to state institutions. He feels that sometimes a child needs to drop out for a while, and some will always have to be supported through institutional life when they can't make it in society.

He said he feels there could still be less state institutions, if more money were allocated to public schools. "Schools have the best control and the most expertise in any community. They should have the resources to help the kid adjust socially as well as mentally. After all, his social adjustment is just as much a part of education as reading, writing and arithmetic," Sublett stated.

This is a very exciting time to be in corrections," said Sublett, who has been in the state for more than 20 years. "We've come from giving them custodial care and whatever else, specifically oriented programs that help a child. Across the nation there are varying programs for children and we have been able to use the best here. But there still is a long way to go," Sublett stated.

A letter from home

A piece of pie

Our local blood bank called to say they needed my type blood. I hesitated, since I was leaving town and needed that extra hour. Best thing was, the round trip to the bank would be about a gallon of gas, and with current prices, a gallon of gas is a gallon of gas.

But I was glad I went, especially when the nurse said, "Your blood is going right to the hospital for a kidney transplant. For transplants, fresh blood is important, because it is so rich in oxygen."

Driving home, I had that warm feeling that comes when we do something helpful.

But then I thought of the person who should really be proud of himself, and that was the donor. For right then, someone whose name I didn't even know was surrendering one of his kidneys, a gift that could never be replaced. My blood would manufacture more blood, but he would never make another kidney.

I suppose real giving takes place when we turn loose of something that can't be replaced. Otherwise it's a loan.

One youngster said that love is when there's only one piece of pie left, and Mommy isn't hungry. Yet that's only the kindergarten of love, for Mommy can bake another pie. But when Mommy or Daddy or anyone gives themselves, there's nothing else to give.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends" (John 15:13).

Johnson PTA elects, views craft display

Mrs. Katie Wilson was elected president of Russell D. Johnson Parent-Teacher Association at its meeting Monday evening at the school.

Named to serve with her during 1974-75 are: Mrs. Val Novosel, vice-president; Mrs. Helen Schmisser, recording secretary; Mrs. Erna Curtis, corresponding secretary; and Larry Smalle, treasurer.

In observance of Boy Scout Month, members of Cub Pack 24, led by Cubmaster Paul Ling, led the opening flag ceremony. Al Mueller Jr., vice-president, was in charge of the business meeting.

Plans to frame and display in the school a chalk drawing, executed by a Johnson fifth grade pupil were discussed. Permission will be sought from the child, Richard Brinkhoff, principal, explained.

Six volleyballs will be purchased by the PTA unit for use in a gym program and a slide projector has been ordered.

The Campbell Soup label collection project, Mueller said, Home room classes contributing the most labels in the contest will be honored at a party next month, he said.

A parent-Teacher "Kaffee Klatch" at the school will take place between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, it was reported.

Parents inspected art and craft displays from each grade level and refreshments were served by Team 3 mothers under the direction of Mrs. Frances Taylor.

The next meeting was scheduled for March 11.

String quartet will perform

The Lincoln String Quartet, in residence at SIUE, will give a concert at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the Lovejoy Library auditorium. The public is invited, admission free.

Members of the quartet are John Kendall and Kent Perry, violin; Robert Schieber, viola; and Joseph Pival, cello. The quartet will be assisted by Janet Scott, flute, and Linda Perry, piano. The program will include "Fantasies for Flute and Strings" (1972) by James Woodard, professor of music at SIUE; and Quintet for Piano and Strings, Opus 81, by Anton Dvorak.

Nurses Alumnae tea set in May

Sister M. Marce, president, led the opening prayer and conducted a short business meeting. Preliminary plans were made for a tea in May during National Hospital Week.

The next meeting was set for March 19.

4-H clubs inspect craft accessories

Members of the Moonspinner and 28 other 4-H clubs toured the yarn department at the Grant City store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center during the weekend.

Mrs. Naomi Randall, department manager, explained the different types of yarn, instruction books and tools used in knitting and crocheting projects.

Girls attending were Rhondice and Monica Wadlow, Joan Krystopa, Maryann Colbert, Debra Burnett, Alice Childers and Susie Burnett.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Harriet Bunscheimer and Mrs. Elizabeth Schmidt, leaders, and guests, Mrs. Martha Burnett and Mrs. Charlotte Parker.

Lucco had flu but feels fine

Two Edwardsville men seeking Democratic state representative nominations March 19 are at odds over the health of one.

Joe Lucco underwent tests Monday from an Alton heart specialist and was told he can continue campaigning, he said.

Lucco said Wendell Durr has made health an issue by saying Lucco is too old and too ill. Some others who oppose him have "spread health rumors," Lucco said.

"It is a pseudo issue. I feel fine and have been in good health throughout the campaign. I haven't missed a meeting and I don't plan to," Lucco said, adding that he suffered a heart attack three years ago.

Lucco, 61, said he had had influenza and became dizzy and nauseated at a Bulgarian gathering Sunday in Madison, collapsing on a parking lot. Other candidates took him to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment and he then returned to the event.

Rings stolen

A display case at Granite City High School South was broken and a graduation ring display case and two cases of stone sets were stolen about 4:10 p.m. Tuesday.

A custodian reported he heard glass breaking and when he arrived at the showcase, noticed the jewelry was missing. The items are property of Joston Ring Co. No estimate of the loss was available.

Pontoon, Maryville crash hurts three

Three persons were hurt when the cars of John Luckert, 44, of 4051 Breckenridge Lane, and Mrs. Theima Wright, 46, of 2408 Angela Drive, collided at Pontoon and Maryville roads at 6:55 a.m. Wednesday.

The drivers and Mrs. Clara Gibson, 31, of 707 Meadow Lane, a passenger in Mrs. Wright's car, were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mrs. Wright was admitted with a cut and injuries to her left knee. Mrs. Gibson was treated for scratches on her forehead. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Luckert suffered cuts near his left eye and on his nose. Sutures were administered. X-rays were taken and he was released.

State ok's appointment

The Illinois Department of Transportation has approved the appointment of Arthur P. Kettnerhofen of Troy as resident engineer for the relocation of Broadway on which work is scheduled to start soon, the Venice City Council was informed Tuesday night.

The council hired Kettnerhofen at a salary of $16,000 per year to become effective when the construction job starts.

Acting Mayor Lloyd Patterson asked the council members to inspect the buildings in their wards and submit a list at the next council meeting of any structures that need to be torn down. The mayor also asked the aldermen to submit any suggestions on street lighting at the next meeting.

The Chief-of-police, the city attorney and the Council's police committee are to study new ordinances needed so that law violators may be prosecuted under local ordinances rather than state laws to bring more revenue into the city.

The council approved the hiring of Edward Mays as a full time employee. Mays had been a temporary employee under the Madison County Emergency Employment program and was hired fulltime after passing a physical examination.

Alderman Tyrone Echols was appointed by the Mayor to find out how the city may help the Wells Baby clinic get the equipment it needs. The clinic is a program of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission.

Legislators want public vote to freeze property tax

House Speaker W. Robert Blair (R-Park Forest), speaking at a service club luncheon in Joliet Monday afternoon, said a House GOP legislative program for the spring session of the General Assembly.

Star billing in the program was shared by a three-pronged tax reform program, and a proposal to shift $2.9 million in an Illinois Building Authority sinking fund reserve to the state's General Revenue Fund.

In announcing the plan for transfer of the $2.9 million, Blair said, "Our goal is to put this king's ransom in tax dollars to work for the people of Illinois rather than continue to allow it to lie fallow as unnecessary protection for absentee bondholders."

In addition, the state would save $3.6 million in debt reduction payments after a transfer, he said.

Blair explained that the sinking fund reserve to protect bondholders was "an ideocracy of the 1870 Constitution" that did not need to be followed under the 1970 charter, since it authorized the sale of bonds backed by the full faith and credit of the state and not just revenues from a project. Thus, in 1972, Blair sponsored the creation of the Capital Development Board.

The Capital Development Board took over the duties of the Illinois Building Authority, the holdover revenue bonding agency.

Bonds still outstanding from the Authority's projects can be converted to a condition no longer requiring a sinking fund reserve.

Two-thirds of the bondholders must agree to such a changeover if proposed by legislation, but Blair said, "since the (bondholders') interests will be fully protected."

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

we can see no earthly reason why their approval would not be forthcoming."

The tax reform-tax relief program enacted by Blair is made up of:

(1) A statewide petition drive for a public referendum on the question of an immediate statewide property tax freeze.

(2) Legislation to eliminate the 2 per cent public utilities taxes on residential users.

(3) An extension of "circuit-breaker" property tax relief to all homeowners and renters with a family income of less than $10,000.

Blair said the referendum petition drive got its impetus in the refusal of Daley Democrats, aided by the governor's free loyalists, to give freeze advocates the extraordinary majority required to pass the bill and make it effective throughout the entire state.

"We think," Blair said, "that in face of the overwhelming support this proposal will receive, even the Daley machine will capitulate."

"We think this advisory referendum will show Democratic legislators beyond a shadow of a doubt that the people of Illinois want property tax rates frozen."

Blair said Rep. C. L. McCormick (R-Vienna), his sponsor of the bill, will head the petition drive. Blair asked that people wishing to help with the drive for signatures write to him in care of The State House in Springfield.

Observing that "we can have significant tax reform and immediate tax relief at the same time," Blair said he will introduce legislation to remove the state's 2 per cent public utilities tax on residential users. He called the utilities tax "our most regressive tax."

"The average per unit cost of gas or electricity paid by all residential users is 1.5 times as much as that paid by commercial and business users," Blair said.

The average residential user pays 60 per cent more tax per unit of gas or electricity than commercial and business users.

"I want to do something to restore some balance to this situation. The best way to do that is to remove entirely the 2 per cent public utilities tax paid by the residential user."

Blair calculated that each residence would save $14.70 in the year following passage of such a bill.

Pegging the total tax relief figure at $41.5 million, he said projected "revenue growth of the remaining, non-residential, public utilities taxes will make up half of the amount spent for relief" in the first year alone.

"During the second year," he said, "projections indicate the entire amount will be completely made up."

He hailed the third portion of the tax reform package as an opportunity to help nearly 16 per cent of the state's population cope with inescapable financial burdens.

Under the House speaker's system, the circuit-breaker, which now applies only to senior citizens and the totally disabled, would be extended to all homeowners and renters with a family income of less than $10,000; welfare recipients would be excluded.

Blair said, "Under the current formula, a retired couple with an income of $5,000 and property taxes of $400 would receive an $80 refund. Under the new system this couple would be entitled to a refund of $180.

"A family of four with an income of $7,000 that rents a two-bedroom apartment for $140 a month would be able to count $420 of their yearly rent as property tax ($140 times 12 months is $1,680 and a fourth of that is $420; one-fourth of rent counts as property tax)."

The speaker said senior citizens would get higher benefits and no one earning $7,000 a year could expect to receive a refund of more than $150 regardless of the amount of his taxes, because of the built-in maximum refund for each income level.

During its first year of operation, Blair estimated that the circuit-breaker would have to be increased only $10 million to absorb the cost of extending the program.

The speaker presented a number of other legislative proposals.

He said legislation is being readied to make the state civil service commission an independent agency. Presently under the fiscal control of the administration, Blair said, impoundment of commission funds by the Bureau of the Budget has kept it hamstringing as a watchdog over violations of the personnel code.

Republicans in the House will seek to freeze diversions from the road fund so that the Transportation Study Commission can study how that drain will affect the state's 20-year highway building program.

Also, by freezing diversions at fiscal year 1974 levels, it will be possible for the state to accommodate a change in the motor fuel tax distribution formula that will be introduced as part of the program.

Under the revised formula, townships and road districts, which "are responsible for more than twice the number of miles of roads than are on any other system," would be apportioned $100 more per mile than the $460 per mile they presently receive.

The MFT formula's apportionment to counties and municipalities would remain unchanged, and the increased share going to townships and road districts, $7.1 million, would come only from the state's share of MFT revenues. The cost of the program would be absorbed in the undiverted increase in revenue growth to the road fund, he said.

Blair also proposed that the General Assembly "embark on (developing) a comprehensive program of assistance for downstate public transportation so as to provide a parity with the Chicago area."

"Downstate transportation needs differ markedly from those of Chicago and we must do more than sling together a potpourri of political sweeteners," he said.

Venice township budgets posted

Budgets for Venice Township and for the Venice Township Highway Department were posted for public inspection today at the town office, 1502 Fifth St., Madison, according to Christ Fashoff, supervisor.

A public hearing on the highway budget will be held at 7 p.m. March 26, followed by 7:30 p.m. by a public hearing on the town budget.

Action on both appropriation measures will be taken by the town board in the annual town meeting April 9. The board will consider the highway budget at 7:30 p.m. and the town budget at 7:30 p.m. on that date.

TAVERN IS LOOTED

Burglars entered the 20th and Park Tavern, 20th Street and Park Avenue, and stole change from the cigarette and candy vending machines and game machines. It was reported at 1:10 p.m. Monday. Entry was gained by forcing open a door from an upstairs apartment. The amount of the loss was not known.

FIND STOLEN CAR

The auto of Helen Miller, 1618 Lindell Blvd., was pushed from her home, apparently by another auto, and an unsuccessful attempt was made to start the engine before the auto was abandoned at 1624 Lindell Blvd. It was reported at 11:35 p.m. Monday.

Ask the Governor

Q. I am interested in becoming an Illinois State Policeman when I am discharged from the service in five months. How does one apply to the Illinois State Police Academy?...SP/4

A. The State Police Merit Board, a 3-member board established in 1949, is authorized to screen applicants for the Illinois State Police.

Applicants must be at least 21 years of age with a high school degree or its equivalent, or 20 years of age with 2 years of law enforcement studies at an accredited college, and not older than 34.

He or she must be a U. S. citizen; must not have committed a felony and must meet the merit board's health requirements. A one year residency requirement and height and weight requirement have been dropped.

Cadets reside at the academy in Springfield for 20 weeks to conclude 900 hours of intensive training in the areas of police ethics, human relations, emergency aid, traffic administration, accident investigation, criminal law, civil disturbance and weapons skill and care. This is the only state in which cadets are trained in closed heart massage.

The state police is limited by statute to 1600 members plus the tollroad authority-another 150 troopers. The size of the classes which are usually held twice a year depend on the number of vacant trooper positions throughout the state. The current class has 31 members.

In Spring of 1973, a 32,700 square foot addition was completed, doubling the physical plant of the academy. This made it possible to offer one-week refresher courses, specialized training such as radio operations and radiological monitoring to other police agencies and to the Department of Conservation law enforcement operations.

The training offered today is a far cry from that offered highway patrol officers in the 1920s. In a 3-day session, they were instructed in Motor Vehicle Law.

Applications for the academy may be sent to the State Police Merit Board, Suite 1016 Ridgely Bldg., Springfield, Ill., 62701.

Clothing, fabric shortages

This spring we are finding ourselves facing a worldwide shortage of the cotton wool and man-made fibers we've been taking for granted, says Marjorie Mead, University of Illinois clothing specialist.

Cotton production has decreased because of flooding in the Mississippi Delta, she explains.

Wool production for wearing apparel has dropped for the thirteenth consecutive year, and prices have increased accordingly.

And because of greater need by other users of the petrochemicals used in producing man-made fibers—such as polyester, acrylics and nylon—there are also expected to be in short supply, says Miss Mead.

In addition, manufacturers grossly underestimated the popular demand for polyester for both men's and women's wear.

It's more important than ever that consumers carefully select clothes and household items, such as linens, drapery and upholstery materials, to get the most possible wear from them, Miss Mead stresses.

Many apparel and retail manufacturers predict price increases of 10 to 25 per cent by spring. And even then they can't guarantee delivery of some fabrics and clothing items.

Take special care now to make sure that clothing and household fabrics are useful and durable, she urges. Miss Mead offers these suggestions to get the most out of your clothing and fabric dollar:

1. Study your present wardrobe and plan around basics and accessories instead of individual costumes. Coordinate your purchases with clothes already on hand.

2. Shop sales now. Substantial savings are possible, considering the predicted price hikes for fall.

Also, compare prices, values, merchandise and services at several stores, or use catalogs for comparing.

3. Buy classic designs rather than fad items. Keep in mind how the garment will be used.

Select the best quality you can afford for the items you wear often. If you buy faddish garments, accept lower quality.

Clothes that will be outgrown also can be of lower quality, unless you plan to "hand them down."

4. Invest in the natural fibers—wool and cotton. The trend is toward quality fabrics rather than quantity.

Learn more about fabrics, fibers, and fabric finishes. How long will they last? Read labels and hang tags to make better decisions, she concludes.

Xi Epsilon Chi selects officers

Mrs. Arlene Haldeman was elected president of Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Dolores Byrnes, 1288 Klein St., Venice.

Others named to serve in 1974-75 are: Bea Brackett, vice-president; Betty Ebling, recording secretary; Lora M. Lombardi, treasurer; Ruth Stoyanoff, corresponding secretary; Jane Laule, extension officer; and Imogene Forrest and Norma Rains, City Council representatives.

Mrs. Betty Ebling announced the "Order of the Rose" degree, denoting 15 years of service, will be conferred April 21 on Mrs. Dolores Dorich and on Mrs. Brackett. Fourteen members will receive the precursor ritual degree at a formal dinner on May 15.

At a special ceremony on May 8, the "Ritual of Jewels" degree will be awarded to Martha Jean Dyer, Mrs. Ebling said.

Mrs. Forrest reviewed a recent City Council meeting and gave information concerning the progression of several local chapters to the next degree level. She described a tea held at the home of Mrs. Julie Gates and said the next City Council session is set for Feb. 25.

Mrs. May Ebling reported events at an executive board meeting. A traveling basket was awarded to Mrs. Dorich and Valentine gifts were presented to Pat Tsigaloroff and Evelyn Tolliver.

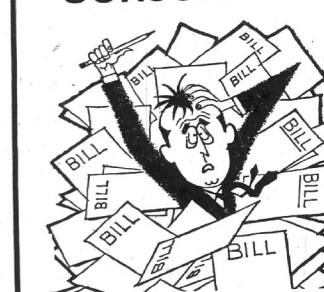

The cultural program, entitled "High Moments of History," was presented by Mrs. Lombardi and Mrs. Tolliver. The speakers cited examples such as contributed by Moses, Socrates, Einstein and Columbus offering them in comparison to events and individuals of more modern times.

A dessert course was served by the hostess after the business meeting. Also present were Johanna Fruendenthal, a guest, and Jean Druhe.

Eftimoffs on Variety Club telethon

Mr. and Mrs. Vasil Eftimoff, 2800 Michigan Ave., have been named to the VIP Panel for the 1974 Variety Club telethon to be held Saturday and Sunday at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel, St. Louis.

Eftimoff will be a member of the VIP Panel which will open the 24-hour show on Channel 11. Along with other prominent community workers, the Granite City resident will man the telephones taking pledges from 9 p.m. until midnight on Saturday.

The show is the seventh annual "Crusade for Forgotten Children." In 1973 more than $317,000 was raised for 33 metropolitan agencies dedicated to child welfare and rehabilitation.

The Variety Club offers services to the families of crippled children by providing wheel chairs, hospital beds, braces, transportation for the immobile and similar services.

"Sunshine Coaches," identified by the big red heart painted on their sides, frequently are seen around the community as they pick up children to take them to their special schools, to hospitals for therapy, or to events and outings that normally are impossible for severely handicapped children to attend.

The Variety Club is a totally non-profit organization with no overhead costs, because all work is volunteered. Every dollar donated to the telethon is returned to one of the receiving agencies, Eftimoff said.

Eftimoff is director of Special Education for Granite City Community Unit 9. His wife, Anita, is a special education teacher in the field of learning disabilities.

Family guidelines for watching television set

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK

Home Economics Adviser

Television helps to educate the child, but watching it interferes with his education. It helps keep him busy and out of mischief, but it also keeps him too busy to do his chores. "It keeps the kids in when you want them in, which is good, except for some of the bad things they see. And it keeps them in when you want them out, which is bad even if they see good things," G. Steiner, 1963

Today, the average American family spends more than six hours per day—well over one-third of its waking hours—watching television.

Yet, ironically, the TV set isn't oriented toward the family.

In most homes, the TV stops family conversation and communication, and transforms family members into silent watchers.

Studies show that children are more frightened by realistic rather than stylized violence, that too early an exposure to violent and stressful programs is frightening, and that TV makes its biggest impact when children can't turn to parents or friends for more information.

The same studies showed that most shows seen by children are adult programs—westerns, crime, and drama; that TV is most often used for entertainment and escape; that TV reduces time for playing and dominates a child's leisure; and that the more conflict there is between parent and child, the more TV is watched.

But a comprehensive examination of TV and violence by the surgeon general's Scientific Advisory Committee showed that while most children do imitate behavior they see, aggressiveness as a result of seeing violent films showed up in the behavior of only some children who were already aggressive.

There are some positive factors about family TV viewing, too. In its own unique way, television provides information, fun, enjoyment and pleasure.

It brings a broader view of life to people, and provides opportunities for expressing emotions such as love, hate, ambition and accomplishment.

To help families take advantage of the positive factors of TV viewing and to offset the negative ones, follow these recommendations by the National Association for Better Broadcasting:

1. Families, for their own sake, should control their TV use.

2. Parents should watch at least some of the programs their children watch, and with them establish rules and guidelines for the best use of TV.

3. Parents have a major responsibility to communicate to their children their own judgements about taste and attitudes toward television viewing, including crime, violence, sex, profanity and all forms of exploitation.

Schools surviving the energy crisis

By MARY LOU MANNING

Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

The buses are rolling, and the schools are warm.

That's the word from J. Robert Sampson, and he should know. As energy planning coordinator for the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, he's been taking requests for fuel from school districts and funneling them to the State Energy Allocation office.

"We had some real problems for awhile, but with the issuance of the new federal guidelines the first of February, the situation is easing up now," said Sampson.

The new federal fuel allocation guidelines reiterate the need for giving schools priority status. One change, however, involves the distribution of fuel oil.

"Schools will receive heating oil as a priority only if they lower their indoor thermostats as dictated by a degree-day formula," Sampson explained. This involves a six-degree drop based on a weather-related formula.

The system works something like this:

A supplier will fill a school's heating tank. The next time he fills it, he will check to see if the school is in compliance with the thermostat requirements.

If it is not, he will issue a warning and fill the tank. If on the subsequent visit the thermostat is still not set correctly, the school will receive a partial tank, the exact amount based on the thermostat setting and the formula.

The 10,000 vehicles used in school transportation throughout the state also have been able to continue in operation, partly because some of their activities have been voluntarily curtailed.

For example, many schools have reduced the number of miles driven in vehicles used in driver education courses, and eliminated some junior varsity sports, fan buses to sporting events and field trips.

"We can predict one problem," Sampson notes. "The small districts with no storage facilities have to get their fuel at the pumps. This fuel is not protected by mandatory guidelines, and therefore many service stations can't store enough fuel for priority users."

This means it's first come, first served, and, they'll have to wait in lines like the other drivers.

Sampson's office distributed energy conservation guidelines to each school district last fall.

EPA to review GC Steel Co.
air quality improvement

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency March 20 will review progress made by Granite City Steel Co. in installing air quality improvement equipment at the plant.

The review is to be made during a public hearing at 10 a.m. that day in the Mississippi Room of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Randall Robertson, an attorney for the steel company, said the hearing is to determine if the EPA should renew a variance for a delay in installation of a new charging car system on the top of the coke ovens. The variances must be renewed each year.

Robertson said "the system should be installed and in operation within six months. All improvements are on schedule, he said. Activation of the charging car will complete the company's compliance with an agreement approved by the Illinois Pollution Control Board in April 1972.

The agreement called for installation of $4,090,000 in pollution control equipment for the coke ovens, quenching system, sinter plant and for the blast furnace where a gas bleeder-burner stack was installed.

The company still will be required to follow a maintenance program on the equipment and will have to file periodic reports on the operations of the plant.

For drivers 69 and older --good news, bad news

If you're 69 years or older, there's good news... and bad news from the secretary of state's office.

First, the good. Effective Jan. 1, the drivers license fee for persons 69 years of age and over has been reduced from $8 to $4. That represents a 50 per cent reduction, and it affects a large portion of those Illinois residents holding a valid driver's license.

For example, as of Dec. 31, 1972, the number of 69-year-old Illinoisans holding a valid driver's license totaled 40,754. Those drivers in the 70-74 years category numbered 143,194 while the 75-79-year-old drivers reached the 76,790 mark. Drivers 80 and older totaled 36,486. Now the bad news. On Dec. 26, Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett took necessary action to eliminate unnecessary road tests for experienced drivers who have good driving records. However, drivers over 69 will continue to take the road tests every three years. In addition, written and vision tests will also be taken.

Before senior citizens take up their pens to accuse Howlett of being prejudiced against those 69 years and older, they may wish to consider this:

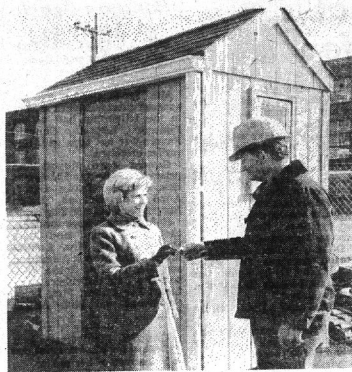

The secretary of state shall examine every applicant for any license or permit who has not been previously licensed as a driver under the laws of this state or any other state or country, or any applicant for renewal of such license or permit who is 69 years of age or older. The secretary of state shall, however, examine every licensed driver at least every nine years."

That's the Illinois statutes we're quoting, and the only way to change the law is through the legislature.

Drivers under the age of 69 will continue to take a written test on rules and a vision test approximately once each nine years.

The exact date of testing will be determined at random by a computer.

NEW SHELTER BUILDING erected at the Coordinated Youth Organization Recycling Center, Adams Street and Niedringhaus Avenue, by apprentices of Carpenters Union Local 633, is presented to Mrs. Jo Meyer, chairman of the CYO Recycling Committee. Handing over the keys is E. L. Rule, the union's apprentice coordinator. The apprentices donated their labor and built the shelter with donated materials. CYO youths are on duty at the recycling center in the afternoons and on Saturdays.

County EOC offers aid to meet energy crisis

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission plans to assume the responsibility to coordinate activities in the county to aid in solving problems brought about by the energy crisis, it was announced this week. The National Office of Economic Opportunity has indicated the possibility of Community Action Agencies spending some of their funds to purchase home heating fuel and/or fuel for automobiles.

In a statement by Alvin Arnett, Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, Community Action Agencies have been given permission to spend OEO dollars for direct grants to individuals.

The persons most severely affected by the energy crisis will be those on fixed incomes and those who are employed in unskilled jobs, it was noted. The fact that fuel oil has increased 100 per cent over the last heating season and that motor fuel has increased 25 to 50 per cent emphasizes the probability that low income employed persons are unable to afford to heat their homes or get to work because of the additional cost of fuel.

The Neighborhood Service Centers of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission will be used as crisis centers and will have the responsibility of issuing vouchers for heating fuel and motor fuel to be used in getting to and from work in emergency situations, according to the Price urges improved benefits for veterans

In remarks on the House floor, Rep. Melvin Price has said the President's legislative proposals increasing veterans benefits do not go far enough.

The proposed Presidential measures to increase education benefits by 8 per cent fail to reflect increases in educational expenses as well as cost-of-living increases," said the congressman.

"Considering the quantum leaps in educational and living expenses, larger benefit increases are in order."

Rep. Price noted that veterans face a special problem, since any increases in Social Security benefits are offset by a decrease in veteran payments.

"The net effect," he said, "is no increase in income."

"While other citizens enjoy Social Security income increases, the veteran is penalized and does not receive the benefit of the legislative increases."

"This offset procedure should be discontinued," he said.

On several days last week, the House Armed Services Committee held its annual military posture hearings.

The testimony received at these hearings aids the committee in drawing up appropriations for the Department of Defense for the upcoming fiscal year.

Rep. Price, ranking member of the committee, said the hearings are particularly important this year because of budget increases in defense outlays.

"We have to scrutinize the new expenditures to ensure that they will be used in the most efficient and effective manner possible," he commented.

Rep. Price, chairman of the committee's Subcommittee on Research and Development, said he will be looking especially closely at appropriations in that area.

"U. S. forces are adequate today," he said, "but we must continue R & D on new techniques and systems to provide an adequate defense structure in the future."

Witnesses at the hearings included Admiral Thomas Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, James Schlesinger, secretary of Defense, and the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Rep. Price has introduced a bill into the House which would require investigation and research into the possible use of solid wastes resulting from mining and processing coal.

The areas of study include (1) the use of such waste as fuel and (2) possible government acquisition of land on which waste is located to be used for public purposes.

The bill was referred to the Mines and Mining Subcommittee of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

The committee has requested that the pertinent federal departments report on the bill.

Day's outside work for dental teachers

Members of the faculty of the School of Dental Medicine of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be limited to the equivalent of one day a week in outside professional practice under a policy adopted last week by the SIU Board of Trustees.

Salaries paid to dental school faculty are not competitive with the income potential in private practice, members of the board were advised, and a plan to regulate outside practice is considered essential in order to retain competent faculty members.

The new policy provides a framework through which faculty may augment their income by outside practice.

It gives the university a method of limiting time devoted to that practice to assure that a faculty member's responsibilities to the dental school are being met.

The policy statement says dental faculty are expected to devote 60 per cent of their time toward student association, including lectures, laboratory teaching, clinical teaching and student advisement.

Additional time, beyond the 60 per cent level, is expected to be devoted to class preparation and self development.

Faculty performing outside professional work will complete the form used throughout the university requesting approval of non-university employment.

The form will indicate that an agreement has been reached with the department chairman, dean, provost and president on the extent of outside work to be performed. Individuals performing outside professional work will file an annual report with the dean of the School of Dental Medicine each June 30.

State completes plan for treatment of alcoholism

"The Preliminary Draft Manuscript of the Illinois State Plan for the Prevention, Treatment, and Control of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism" has been completed, according to Dr. Larry P. Levitt, director of the Illinois Department of Mental Health.

Copies of the plan are available for public inspection at the offices of the regional alcoholism coordinators; from members of the Illinois Alcoholism Advisory Council; and from the department's alcoholism program advisor, Room 2010, 160 N. LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill. 60601.

James F. Griffin, department director, said, "The plan will be submitted to the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare and, if approved, will provide Illinois with as much as $13 million in federal funds. These funds, as well as state per cent level, is expected to be devoted to class preparation and self development.

Tax tip—Trimming what is legally owed is worth fee

In 1974, as in most recent years, approximately one out of two taxpayers will go to a commercial tax preparation service.

The 50 per cent who don't will be confronted once more with two familiar, annual questions:

—Is it really helpful to obtain outside assistance?

—If so, where is the best place to turn for this service?

"Whether to seek professional help is, of course, up to the individual," says tax specialist Sanford Kahn.

"But it must be remembered that his primary objectives would be, first, to pay as little in taxes as he legally has to and, second, to fill out the form completely and accurately so the IRS doesn't call him on it."

"Nationally, 12 per cent of all returns have been found to contain errors. This decreases to 7 to 9 per cent when professional help is employed. "And the error factor drops to a fraction of one per cent when that professionally prepared return is completed with the help of a computer."

"If the taxpayer decides to go to a tax service, his next problem is: Which one?"

"As a consumer, he's most likely to be particular about getting the most for his money when he has his car or his TV set repaired. He ought to be equally particular when he has his tax form completed."

"After all," Kahn points out, "there could be great savings at stake."

There are a number of clues to a tax service's reliability, according to Kahn.

"One simple test is: Will they sign the return, listing themselves as the preparer? And will they pay any penalty or any interest charges caused by their error?"

"That doesn't mean, of course, that they're obligated to pay any additional taxes owed or that they should be stuck with the bill if the mistake was due to faulty information supplied by the taxpayer."

Another test, says Kahn, is to determine if the service has a permanent office.

"Will they be there, after tax season, to answer any questions that you—or the Internal Revenue Service—might have?"

"Do they perform financial related services the year-round? The fly-by-nights just might not be easy to find if a problem arises."

Kahn also lists these guidelines:

—Will they prepare state and city returns as well as federal?

"Some aren't set up to do this. So you'd have to take them to another place."

—Will they handle out-of-the-ordinary deductions or adjustments, such as those for moving, sick pay, non-highway gasoline tax refunds, etc.?

"This is where real savings are possible, so be cautious if the tax service seems inclined to gloss over these items just to get your return over and done with."

"How well trained are the individual consultants?"

"Most of the well known companies in this field give their personnel many hours of instruction and testing. Find out how much your particular consultant has had."

Does he have a background in the financial area? Does he work full-time—or has he ever—in this field?

"Don't be afraid to ask—and to go elsewhere if the answers don't satisfy you."

—Does the service have a policy and procedures manual or an extensive guidebook or checklist to follow in order to save you every possible dollar?

Finally, Kahn advises, "don't be overly swayed by the promise of a finished tax return for only a few dollars."

"If your return is relatively simple, certainly the fee should be reasonable. The average is about $15."

"But you're paying for a valuable service, so consider quality as well as price."

$1,332,678 to county schools

Madison County school systems will receive $1,332,678 for special education purposes from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare this year, Rep. Melvin Price announced during the weekend.

"The funds will be given to the state, which will then distribute the county grants to individual school districts."

The grants, Price explained, come under Title I funds of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 and will be used to provide services for children residing in low-income areas who need special remedial educational assistance.

Programs included are after-school tutoring, remedial and developmental reading, speech improvement and other supportive services for non-physically-handicapped students.

Rep. Price said additional funds will be forthcoming for programs aiding neglected and delinquent children.

Policy on SIUE student publication includes journalist ethics code

Trustees of Southern Illinois University have adopted a student publications policy for SIUE at Edwardsville which says "prevailing legal principles of freedom of the press and expression shall be respected with regard to all publications at SIUE for which the president and Board of Trustees are responsible."

The policy statement also incorporates the code of ethics adopted by Sigma Delta Chi, a society for professional journalists, at the organization's national convention last November.

The code includes sections on responsibility, freedom of the press, accuracy, objectivity and fair play as well as ethics.

By law, the Board of Trustees is the legal publisher of student-operated publications for which the board provides funding for the express purpose of publication.

The new policy statement establishes a chain of legal and fiscal responsibility leading from the trustees through the office of the president of the university to the faculty or staff advisor, the fiscal officer and the student editor-in-chief.

No university money will be provided for a student publication until such time as the publication can show proof of fiscal responsibility and gain the approval of the university president or his authorized representative, for working papers of the publication.

Working papers are to be developed in consultation with "appropriate university representative bodies," the policy statement says.

Publications already in existence, with working papers previously approved by the president, will be considered to be operating properly under the new guidelines.

Students without approved working papers will be given reasonable time to submit working papers and gain approval.

Each student publication is to have a faculty or staff advisor to assist the student staff in the transfer of the staff's theories of publication and content to the student staff.

The advisor will be responsible to the president, with details of his or her operating policy to be specified in the working papers of the publication.

Principal editors and advisors will be selected by a method to be specified in the working papers and are to be "conversant with prevailing laws of libel, obscenity, privacy and any other laws and ordinances affecting the publication."

The policy statement says reviews of specific materials and "decisions concerning content and publications practices shall in every case be made by the principal editor and the publication's advisors in full accord with applicable legal principles."

As a general principle, publications are to be as student-oriented in organization as practicable.

"As a guiding principle for general content, such publications shall strive to maintain relevance to SIUE, its purposes and goals as a university, and the customs, attitudes and goals of the student body, student staff, and faculty-staff," the new policy says.

The policy statement was developed by a committee including representatives of student government, student publications, the faculty of the mass communications department and the university administrative officers.

The Sigma Delta Chi code includes reference to public knowledge of governmental deliberations.

Decentralize part of SIUE treasurer tasks

Changes designed to decentralize certain functions of the treasurer of the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees were adopted by the board last week.

The recommendations for changes were made by a special committee headed by the Treasurer Function Committee, originally appointed in the spring of 1973 to study functions of the treasurer's office.

The approved changes include:

- The assistant treasurer's function is reassigned to the presidents, at Carbondale and Edwardsville, but the respective assistant treasurers are charged with the responsibility of assisting the board treasurer regarding matters concerning capital appropriations and budgets and reports to the Board of Trustees.

Rally planned

The Madison County North Central Democratic Club will hold a rally Wednesday, March 6 at Jim Williams', 168 Douglas St., Mitchell.

Each university will prepare cash flow projections on local funds and recommend the amount of investments to be made by the board treasurer.

The board treasurer will retain responsibility for the transfer to the state comptroller of receipts for credit to the SIUE Income Fund.

All Democratic candidates in the 1974 primary election for state representative, county public and judges have been invited to attend.

The rally will start at 7:30 p.m. and refreshment and snacks will be served.

Each university will continue the responsibility for debt service, reserve accounts and the retention of and transfer of tuition fees and bond proceeds.

Bank account signature authority also will remain with the board treasurer.

Nine openings for Scout trip to New Mexico ranch

"Only nine places are now open for our high adventure trip to the Philmont Ranch in Cimarron, N. M. this August," Reginald Mennerick, council camping chairman said this week.

"This promises to be a once-in-a-lifetime adventure for the 44 young men we will take, and will present a real challenge to the older Scouts and Explorers who make the trip," he said.

Reservations are first-come, first-served and may be made at the Boy Scout Service Center, 1338a Niedringhaus Ave. The total cost of the trip Aug. 5 to Aug. 19 is $165 which includes everything but spending money.

Philmont is located in northeast New Mexico and covers 214 square miles, 137,493 acres of forest and plains; and the Sangre de Cristo mountains.

Those attending will do backpacking, camping, mountaineering, mining, panning for gold, archeology, and even learning about the famous Kentucky Long Rifle.

A working ranch, Philmont has 500 head of Hereford cattle, 250 saddle horses, 180 burros and 150 wild buffalo.

A Scout or Explorer must be at least 14 years old to make the trip and be in good physical condition in order to enjoy the adventure described by Mennerick as "rough, rugged and fantastic."

Already signed up to take the trip from the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) district are Richard Bunch, Mark Garich, Darren Geisler, Kevin Harmon, Dale Johnson, Mike Mennerick, Bob Meyers, Patrick Polter, Keith Sanders, Bryant Snee, Richard Taylor, Eric Thornburg, Nicholas Tsigoloff, Bryan Warren, Brian Winfield, Marvin Wiedner, Bruce Jaffe, Forest Crawford, Scott Fanning, and Tom Sawyer.

District Scout Training Chairman Charles Taylor, 7 Fountainbleau Drive, phone 797-0147, is the high adventure committee chairman for the local district.

"Any Scout or Explorer interested in more information are asked to contact either the local Scout office (876-0868) or Taylor right away as we have only nine openings left," Mennerick emphasized.

City buys electric pumps for use at sewer breaks

A step toward cutting back mounting costs resulting from sanitary sewer line breaks in the Nameoki area was taken by the Granite City Council Monday night in authorizing purchase of three submersible pumps by the city street department.

Lionel Portell, street superintendent, told the aldermen the electrically operated pumps can be used round the clock with a minimum of maintenance, thus replacing the present gasoline pumps which require one or two men in constant attendance at each break where by-pass pumping is required.

The aldermen approved a recommendation by Portell and Alderman Emerald Dawes, chairman of the Street and Alley Committee, in approving purchase of two single-phase pumps and one three-phase pump from the Flyte Corp. of Maryland Heights, Mo.

The Missouri firm was low bidder at $1,310 for each of the single-phase pumps and $1,195 for the three-phase pump, a total of $3,815. In addition, the action included purchase of regulators for each of the pumps at a cost of $195 each, bringing the total purchase price to $4,400.

Portell said he recently had as many as eight men working full time mending gasoline pumps at sewer breaks, but five of these returned to regular street department duties last week when the Finis Ernest Contracting Co. of East St. Louis began repair work at two sewer breaks.

Thus leaves three men on duty at two other breaks where gasoline pumps are being used to by-pass sewage around breaks in the lines, Portell said. He noted two of these could be returned to street crews by use of the submersible pumps.

The city has paid more than $1 million in repair costs to the Ernest Company under a contract awarded by the city last July. Under that contract, the Ernest firm receives $1,000 per day for by-passing operations at each break it repairs.

In instances where street department workers have been assigned to pumping operations at sewer breaks, cost has been high because men must be stationed at the sites 24 hours a day, resulting in high overtime costs, Portell has said.

AWARD CERTIFICATE for a $500 console television is presented to Mr. and Mrs. James Bucatch of Granite City by C. J. Gibbs, right, appliance department manager of Grant City at Namooki Village Shopping Center. The award was made in a "Heart's Desire" promotion at the store.

Pontoon delays flood insurance bill

Attempts to qualify Pontoon Beach for flood insurance have been postponed by the village board until new maps of flood-prone areas are completed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Village Board President David Moss said the postponement was on the advice of the village attorney who said passing a resolution to qualify the village for flood insurance at this time could lead to a "blanket building ban" in the village.

After the maps are completed, the village may designate only flood-prone areas from the maps as qualifying for flood insurance, Moss said. The maps should be available in several weeks, Moss believes.

The board officially reduced the number of available Class A liquor licenses in the village from nine to eight, thus eliminating one license which had not been issued.

Also approved was a resolution banning right turns on red traffic lights from Pontoon Road onto Route 111. That resolution was sent to the state which also must approve the turn ban. If approved, the state will erect the appropriate signs.

Moss appointed a committee to study the populations of areas annexed into the village since 1972. The survey will update a census of the village taken by the village board in October 1972, which showed 3,235 persons residing there at that time.

The 1970 federal census showed the village's population to be only 2,448. The village board hopes to provide the Bureau of the Census with enough information to call for a special federal census in the village.

Motor fuel tax funds and federal revenue sharing are distributed on the basis of population and the village hopes to increase both by about one-third.

Presently, the village receives about $24,380 in MFT funds and about $16,000 per year in revenue sharing.

Dr. Dean Rochester, trustee, was appointed to chair the committee.

Committee for Census Statistics with Donald C. Rea and Marvin Ribbing, trustees, to serve on the committee.

MacIair Asphalt Co., the only bidder on supplying road materials for the village's 1974 motor fuel tax road program, was awarded that contract at $11.10 per ton.

The board accepted the plat of Kaseberg East Lane for annexation into the village but indicated they do not intend to dedicate the road until it is brought into compliance with the village's standards. The road now is privately owned.

The board reinstated Bobby Morgan as a part-time police dispatcher. Morgan had been on a sick leave.

Also believed.

The board officially reduced the number of available Class A liquor licenses in the village from nine to eight, thus eliminating one license which had not been issued.

Stevenson to push for federal officials' financial disclosures

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., will introduce this week and push for enactment this year a full financial disclosure bill for all elected federal officials and candidates.

Stevenson's bill would require them to file by each May 1 with the U.S. comptroller general an annual report to be made public of all their earned and unearned income, the source and amount of gifts valued at more than $100, income and property taxes, assets and debts, and transactions in securities, commodities and real property. Stevenson issued a statement on the bill he announced in a speech at Joliet Junior College.

He said his bill would give the public a "full range of financial information about those who occupy and aspire to elective offices in the federal government."

He asserted that the public has received a "tragic impression that there are two sets of tax laws, one for politicians and one for everybody else" from the tax troubles of President Nixon and former Vice President Spiro Agnew.

Stevenson noted that a poll showed Congress in its lowest esteem in a decade and that this further suggests that Congress "must dispel the doubts about its ability to insure honest government."

"Financial disclosure is needed not so much because of the wrongdoing it may expose, but because of the doubts it will lay to rest," he said.

CHANGE THIS TO THIS!

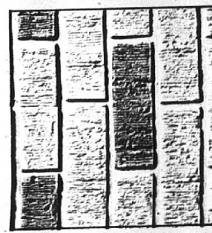

After years of research and development Amrox brick is now available to the American home owner. 1,000,000 pounds of hydraulic pressure forms this beautifully permanent brick made from patterns created by fine artisans. Real brick materials, a special blend of colors, and rugged Owens Corning fiberglas are bonded into Amrox brick. The result is a water-proof, rich, brick texture that doesn't chip or peel or rot in normal use. The unique patented design creates a pattern so aesthetically perfect that it looks more like real brick than brick itself. Only those who know the cost know it's not brick, it adds the final touch of masonry beauty to any home.
